

SAPIRO PLEADING OWN CASE

TREATY CANCELLING PUTS PRESSURE ON CALLES

BELIEVE COOLIDGE INTENDS TO COMPEL LAND CONCESSIONS

Lifting Of Embargo Is Second Threat Against Mexico

WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Coolidge has begun to "bear down" on the Calles government in Mexico in an effort to obtain by such a process what innumerable diplomatic notes have failed to get—concessions from Calles in the land and petroleum law controversy.

This was the accepted interpretation here today of the state department's abrupt termination of the Mexican-American anti-smuggling treaty. The abrogation of this treaty lets down the bars to widespread and serious smuggling of arms and ammunition along the thousand-mile border.

The nullification of the treaty is regarded as the first turn of "the screws" upon Calles. The second, and far more serious turn, would be the lifting of the embargo on arms. That would open wide the floodgates of arms and ammunition to the numerous enemies and revolutionary opponents of Calles. It might even spell the end of the Calles government, in the opinion of many Mexican observers here, and plunge the country once more into the maelstrom of revolution, from which Calles has partially rescued it.

Whether the embargo is to be lifted is purely a matter of speculation in Washington today. Opinion is about evenly divided, and President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg are silent about the matter. They will not even discuss it.

It is pointed out, however, that the abrogation of the treaty is a first and necessary step to the lifting of the embargo. The treaty and the embargo were interdependent. So long as the treaty was operative the embargo could not be lifted. Now there is nothing in the way of it, or won't be after next Monday.

There is a reason to believe that the grave-silent silence at the White House and state department is a bluff warning has already been served on Calles that if his government persists in its stubborn position in the land law controversy the embargo is scheduled to follow the treaty—the second turn of "the screws."

Confidential reports in the hands of the state department from observers in Mexico show that the country is teeming with revolutionary activities. Thus far Calles has been able to keep the situation under control because his enemies have been unable to get arms in sufficient quantities to start a real show. Once the embargo was lifted there would be bullets enough for everybody, and Mexican revolutionists have a way of always being able to obtain cash with which to buy them.

Some officials here believe it will not be necessary to give a second turn to "the screws" of pressure. The treaty termination itself is a sharp warning, and that it has not been without effect was evidenced here today by the optimistic utterances of the Mexican ambassador, Don Manuel C. Tellez.

NEED REPENTANCE TO GAIN SALVATION

"Real repentance is essential to salvation," the Rev. W. G. Bennett told the Tuesday evening audience at the Church of the Nazarene.

"Repentance" means a turning away from or a forsaking of sin. The theory so prevalent today, that one must sin a little every day, is not Biblical nor is it founded on good reasoning.

"The Word says, 'let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts.' To forsake means to leave forever and if one really repents, it means he has forsaken his sins never to return to them. The reason there is so much backsliding today is because there is so little of true repentance."

Two responded to the altar call at the close of the sermon. Previous to the address, Mrs. B. H. Bottorff sang a solo "Would You Believe." Services are held each night this week at 7:30 except Saturday night.

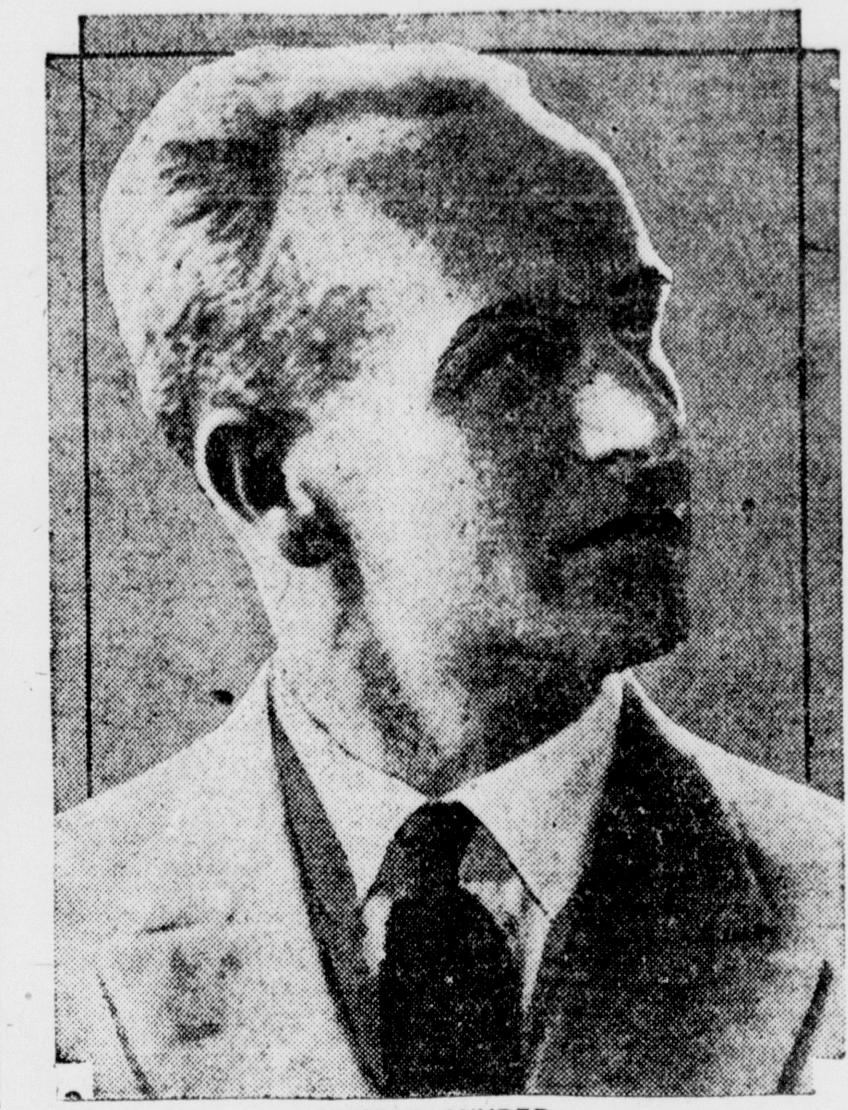

FLORIDA SLAYER IS ELECTROCUTED

RAIFORD, Fla., March 23.—Rufus Chesser, 19, convicted killer of his sweetheart, Sally Boyles, was electrocuted at the state prison farm here today.

He was taken into the death chamber at 10:41 o'clock and seven minutes later, after only one charge of current had been sent through his body, he was pronounced dead.

AMERICANS SHOT AT SHANGHAI

WIFE PLOTTED MURDER OF HUSBAND WITH HER LOVER SHE ADMITS

ALBERT SNYDER

MRS. ALBERT SNYDER

MURDER DEFENDANTS PREPARE DEFENSE PLAN; BOTH GUARDED

Victim Of Slaying That Resulted From Illicit Love Affair, Buried While Police Keep Back Crowds Of Morbidly Curious

NEW YORK, March 23.—Counsel for Henry Judd Gray, whose illicit love affair with Mrs. Snyder led to the killing of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, are engaged in working out a complicated and elaborate plan of defense.

It is understood that it will be based upon three lines:

1. Gray was mentally irresponsible at the time of the act;
2. He was under the domination of Mrs. Snyder, whose will was so much stronger than his that he was practically hypnotized;
3. He had been imbibing "bad booze" which impaired his faculties.

Just what defense will be presented for Mrs. Snyder is not known, but the fact that she retracted her confession and, along with Gray, pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing made it evident that she is going to make a strong fight for her life.

District Attorney Newcombe, of Queens County, Long Island, said he was ready to go before the grand jury today and demand an indictment for murder against both defendants.

"I plan to try them both for murder impartially without showing leniency to either one," said the district attorney.

Asked if he would demand the electric chair for both, Newcombe said that phase of the case was too far in the future for discussion.

Funeral services were held for Snyder, who was art editor of the publication "Motor Boating," at his home in Queens village last night and the body was to be interred today in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Only fifty friends and relatives were admitted to the house. While the Rev. Dr. Everett D. Lyons of the Dutch Reformed Church of Queens village, was conducting the service it required the efforts of six policemen and a detective to hold back a crowd of 1,000 morbidly curious men and women who tried to break into the house to see the corpse.

Fearing that Gray and Mrs. Snyder may attempt suicide, police placed a twenty-four hour suicide guard over the cells. A deputy sheriff was instructed to keep constant guard over Gray and a woman, Mrs. Snyder, placed outside the cell of Mrs. Snyder.

Instructions were given that electric lights be kept burning outside their cells all night.

THREE BURNED; TWO EXPECTED TO DIE

CINCINNATI, O., March 23.—Two men were probably fatally burned and another painfully blistered by a sudden flare of sparks and fire in the generating plant of the Union Gas and Electric Company here today.

Those expected to die of burns were: Joe Huber, 30, a foreman; and John Lovers, 26, electrician. George Hawkins, 33, electrician, was severely, but not seriously burned, by the sudden flare-up, the cause of which was unknown. Damage to the plant was slight.

POLICE CLASH WITH COMMUNISTS AFTER PARADE IN BERLIN

Presidential Candidate Slashed By Sabre In Attack

BERLIN, March 23.—One man was killed and twenty-four wounded in a clash between police and communists during a street demonstration today.

Ernest Thenn Thaelmann, presidential candidate of the communist party, was slashed with a sabre when the police charged the demonstrators.

The trouble began when 2,000 "red front fighters" began marching to protect against an earlier attack made against them by "steel helmets" as the military police are called.

When ordered to disperse, the communists stood their ground. The police then opened fire and charged.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR MURDER OF WORKER

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 23.—Salvatore Rini, Wellsview, and Mrs. Marie Chorgas, Minneapolis, Minn., are under arrest here following the discovery of the body of Pasquale Annania, mill worker here, early today, with a knife stab through the heart. Police scorn the theory that Rini was accidentally killed in falling upon a butcher knife and declare he was stabbed during a fight. The arrested pair are held on suspicion.

ALERTNESS OF GUARD PREVENTS CINCINNATI JAIL DELIVERY

CINCINNATI, O., March 23.—An extra heavy guard was on duty at the county jail here today following the frustration of an attempted jail break about midnight that nearly meant freedom for possibly scores of prisoners.

Doraine Huffman, 25, convicted murderer, held in the hospital ward because he claimed illness, narrowly failed in the crafty plot because the last guard barring the way to freedom sensed danger and did not answer a decoy call, county officials reported today.

About midnight, Guard Fred Wenger was asked by Huffman to lower a window in the hospital ward, it was said.

As Wenger opened the iron door leading to the ward, Huffman leaped from bed and with Lenar Santana, another prisoner, rushed and overpowered the guard.

The two prisoners then rushed another guard, took his revolver, and forced him to open two of the three doors that led to freedom. Threatening to kill him, the two prisoners made the guard call to William Mersman, another outer guard to open the outside office door.

Mersman, sensing danger, called a squad of police who quickly drove the men back to their cells.

"About midnight, I heard that the final bar to freedom for more than 400 prisoners would have been removed," police said today.

Huffman was recently sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Conrad Spless, Covington, Ky., actor.

VALUABLE BRACELET FOUND BY "CADDY"

CINCINNATI, O., March 23.—Russell Wagner, 12, bright-eyed and ambitious, today was anxiously awaiting whatever reward was his finding and returning a $2,500 diamond bracelet to its owner yesterday. Russell, who recently got his "caddy's badge" at a local course so he could earn a little vacation money found the bracelet on the course. His mother recalled an advertisement in the "lost" column of a local newspaper and the jewelry was soon returned to the owner.

UNITED STATES WAR SHIP WILL PROTECT LIVES AT NANKING

Cantonese Driven Back At Nanking—Split Threatens

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Three Americans have been wounded in the fighting around Shanghai, according to a report to the navy department this morning from Admiral C. S. Williams, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

One of the Americans was a marine. He was struck by a stray bullet and not seriously injured. The others were not identified in Admiral Williams report.

PEKING, March 23.—The Cantonese have been driven thirty miles back from Nanking, with heavy losses, according to a communication issued here today by the An Kuo Chun headquarters.

The communication states that 2,000 Cantonese were killed and 3,000 prisoners were taken.

SHANGHAI, March 23.—While the Cantonese are making desperate efforts to restore order in Shanghai, there comes the danger of a split within the ranks of the victors themselves.

The commanders of the Cantonese have issued instructions which are being defied by the guerrilla sympathizers with the Cantonese cause.

General officers in charge of the Cantonese forces declare they will take action against the guerrillas as soon as they have completely subdued the remnants of the northerners now in the city.

PEKING, March 23.—Admiral Hough, U. S. N., has been ordered by the United States legation to proceed from Hankow upon the United States warship Isobel to Nanking to resist the warcraft to protect Americans whose lives and properties were endangered by the fighting between the Cantonese and northerners at that place.

The United States legation announced today that American residents of Chinkiang are evacuating the place under the protection of a United States destroyer.

SCRIBE IS ILL

FEDERAL BUILDING, Detroit, March 23.—The frigid atmosphere in the courtroom at the Ford-Sapiro libel suit was blamed today for an attack of pneumonia suffered by Paul V. Anderson, correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Anderson was stricken during the night and hurried to a local hospital.

EX-STAR DIES

DETROIT, March 23.—Frank Burns, former baseball star with the St. Paul, Minn., baseball team twenty-nine years ago, died today of pneumonia.

Burns came here eighteen months ago from the Ohio State penitentiary.

PRISONERS FREED

COLUMBUS, O., March 23.—Nine more prisoners, held under sentences imposed by "fee courts" in Franklin County, were at liberty today, after separate hearings. County Prosecutor J. J. Chertter, Jr., planned establishment of separate county liquor courts.

STOUT MURDER TRIAL EXPECTED TO DEVELOP DRAMATIC STORY

M'ARTHUR, O., March 23.—With the stage all set today for dramatic developments in the murder trial of Arthur Stout, 33, on trial for the alleged murder of his step-mother, Mrs. Sarah Stout, near here last November, the state's star witnesses were expected to be called at today's court session.

A jury consisting of twelve men, was selected and empaneled late yesterday, and half a dozen technical witnesses were called, including Coroner Walter Swain, who testified that Mrs. Stout was apparently choked to death.

Mrs. Inez Palmer, now facing a charge of murdering the husband of Mrs. Sarah Stout, was expected to be called to testify as to the alleged bad feeling between the defendant and the dead woman, which the state plans to show grew out of Mrs. Stout's objection to Arthur Stout living with Mrs. Palmer as his common law wife. It was shortly after Mrs. Stout had caused her stepson's arrest on a statutory charge that she was found murdered.

Witnesses called at yesterday's session described the finding of Mrs. Stout's body, and its condition.

ARTICLE ALLEGING LIBEL PRODUCED IN EVIDENCE AT TRIAL

Defense Overruled And Story Admitted By Court

FEDERAL BUILDING, Detroit, March 23.—Aaron Sapiro, so-called "wheat king," began pleading his own case today at the trial of his million-dollar libel suit against Henry Ford.

The wheat king read to the jury one of the articles published by the Dearborn Independent after it had been admitted to evidence over the objections of Ford's counsel.

The article charged that radicals, communists and I. W. W.'s helped Sapiro organize his co-operatives in the northwest.

Sapiro, youthful, sleek-haired, took up his own case because his chief counsel, William H. Gallagher was suffering from a heavy cold. He read in even tones Ford's charges that wherever the Sapiro co-operatives were organized in the northwest, there were outbreaks of communism.

"There appears as lieutenants (of the Sapiro leaders) the radicals, the agents of the I. W. W., even open adherents of communism and bolshevism, as the strong arm men to put the works on hesitant farmers," was one of the charges.

"The reds and radicals and communists and I. W. W. agents went in gangs of three to eight and hammered the weak-kneed, radical or dissatisfied hay growers into joining this association" another read.

William J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, was back on the witness stand at the time for the third straight day. He appeared bored with the proceedings.

Before Sapiro began, Gallagher called for the manuscripts of the articles published in the Independent. Cameron said a search had been made for them but he didn't know whether they had been found. Ford's attorneys said the search was unsuccessful.

Then the Sapiro attorney turned to the Ford article on which the wheat kings based the tenth count of his libel suit. It concerned western hay growers.

The article first referred to a protest by "The Scribe," a Jewish paper of Portland, Oregon, against the way the Independent stressed the fact that Sapiro was a Jew. Then it added: "It may be only a coincidence that the line of cultural control in this country runs from Otto Kahn and Bernard M. Baruch down through Aaron Sapiro and lesser Jews."

Gallagher asked to have the whole article inserted in the record "to show how inaccurate the writer of it was."

Stewart Hanley, of Ford's counsel, made his first objection of the day. The court overruled the objection but warned the jury that Sapiro could not recover damages for misstatements in any portion of the article other than the paragraphs cited in the declaration of libel.

"I shall admit the whole article so the jury can better understand the precise meaning of the alleged libel," said Federal Judge Ford M. Raymond.

TO QUIZ PRISONER IN PAYROLL CASE

JACKSON, Mich., March 23.—Frank Nowacek, 25, who has just begun a ten to twenty year sentence for robbery was to be interviewed today by Detective John Geisler of Allegheny, Pa., who seeks to round up all the bandits participating in the $104,000 payroll robbery near Pittsburgh, March 10.

Nowacek was described by Joseph Weckowski, on whose farm near Pittsburgh part of the loot was found, as one of the men who used to hang around his place. Weckowski recognized Nowacek's picture in the rogue gallery.

Nowacek is said to be wanted in Pittsburgh for a $57,000 mine payroll holdup a year ago.

ITALY WILL NOT ACT IN ALBANIAN CASE

LONDON, March 23.—Diplomatic exchanges between Great Britain, France and Germany have made it practically certain that Italy will not take action against Jugo-Slavia on her own initiative, it was stated today.

Great Britain favors an inquiry by military experts into the Italian charges that Jugo-Slavia has made war-like preparations on the Italian and Albanian borders and into the Jugo-Slavian charges that Italy has made preparations for undue extension of her sphere of influence in Albania.

THE FARM FORUM

County Agent

Farm Bureau News

Daily Live Stock Market

BACILLARY WHITE CHICK DIARRHEA AND ITS EFFECTS

Bacillary white diarrhea, an infectious disease which often causes great losses in baby chicks, is usually transmitted through the use of eggs for hatching from infected hens, according to B. H. Edgington, veterinary associate in Animal Industry at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Some chicks, Dr. Edgington says, may recover from the disease and carry the infection during their entire life. Hens from such a source frequently have infected ovaries and produce eggs some of which contain the disease germs. These hens appear normal, although diminished egg production and low hatchability accompany the disease.

During the first three days following the hatching, chicks are highly susceptible to the infection, and one chick from an infected egg can spread the disease through an entire hatch.

The incubator and brooder will also transmit the disease to later hatches unless thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Good sanitation will restrict the spread of the disease. All sick chicks should be destroyed and dead chicks burned or buried.

There is no established cure for the disease. Healthy chicks should be put in uncontaminated quarters which are cleaned daily. Drinking and feeding vessels should be sterilized preferably by boiling. Affected chicks appear droopy. Diarrhea may or may not be present. When seen it is of a whitish frothy character, adhering to the down about the vent.

Prevention consists in selecting eggs for hatching from flocks known to be free from the disease and avoiding those from hens which have survived the infected hatches or from flocks having a high mortality in their hatches. Infection in a flock can be detected by the agglutination or "blood test."

STATE VARIATED ALFALFAS ADAPTED TO BUCKEYE FIELDS

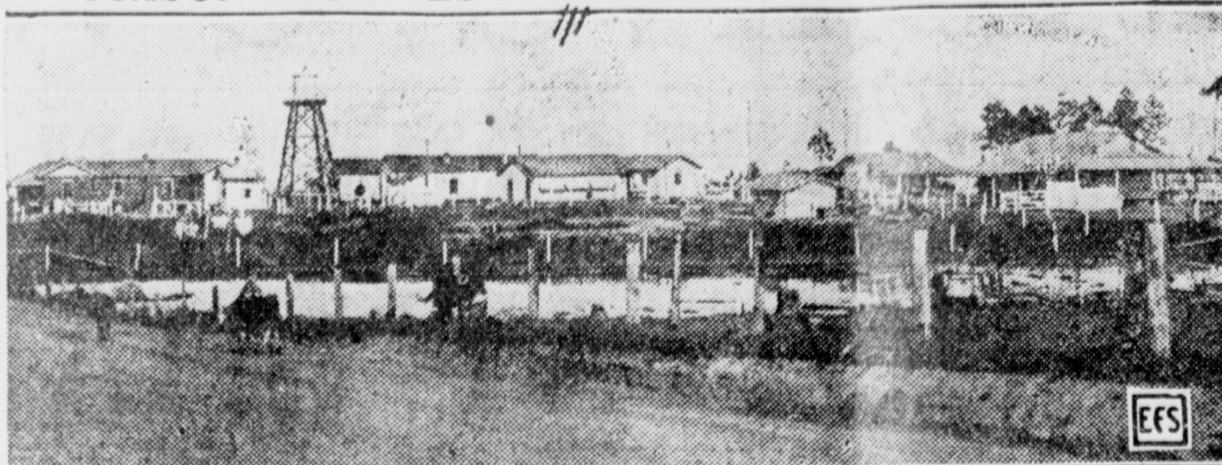

Varietated alfalfas originated in cooler regions than the common varieties. This had made them hardy and able to withstand the winter freezes. C. J. Willard of the department of farm crops at the Ohio State University points out in a new bulletin of alfalfa.

This group of plants receives its name because its flowers are varied in color. Some of the flowers may be nearly white, yellow, smoky, or greenish instead of all blue, as the common varieties flower. They are known as Grimm, Canadian, Varietated, Hardigan, Cosack, and Baltic. Grimm is the most widely known of these varieties.

Only the Grimm alfalfa has been widely tried in Ohio. The tests that have been made, Mr. Willard observes, suggest that the other varietated seeds are as good as Grimm seed for Ohio planting. The Canadian or Ontario Varietated has been grown in Ontario for many years and there has fully equalled Grimm in all tests. There is no doubt of its hardiness in Ohio. At present the seed is much cheaper than Grimm.

There is very little difference between Grimm and the common varieties in heating. One heaves about as much as the other. The difference, Mr. Willard points out, is in the internal make-up of the plant. Winter wheat and oats, for example, both have the same habit of growth, but like the common and the varietated alfalfas one is winter-hardy and the other is not.

PRISON BECOMES FARM SCHOOL FOR FARMERS

THE COMBINED PRISON FARM AND FARM SCHOOL OF MOBILE COUNTY, ALABAMA.

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927 MOBILE, Ala., March 23.—A county-operated farm in Mobile County, established a few years ago primarily to improve working conditions for prisoners sentenced to hard labor, is now to be used partly as an agricultural center, under a co-operative program by a county commissioners, the county agricultural agent and the Alabama experimental station.

Through this venture, which the county commissioners have decided to undertake, experiments will be made in the growing of a variety of new crops. A designated area of the land under cultivation will be set aside for this purpose in order to avoid interference with the regular farm operations.

Farmers are pleased with the idea of making the farm an asset to all of them.

New Styles May Be Hard on Dad, But Not on the 1927 Baggage

See for yourself! Fay Wray shows what a woman traveler carried ten years ago, and Margaret Morris shows what she carries today. No wonder baggage men aren't dying off like they used to!

There's less baggage to smash these days! E. B. Carson, of Los Angeles, general baggage agent of one of the largest western railroads, has conducted researches that show that the average weight of each piece of baggage handled by his railroad last year was eighty-five pounds, much less than it was ten years ago.

Chief reason? Women's styles! Better hotels, too, have much to do with it, Carson said.

"Every high class hotel in the United States today supplies conveniences that travelers had to carry themselves ten or fifteen years ago," said Carson. "The conveniences afforded passengers by the railroads also have increased. People travel more now and the general public is more familiar with the needs and the burdens of carrying and transferring baggage."

"A man travels from coast to coast comfortably with one suitcase and a small hand bag and easily keeps an immaculate appearance. He can have his suit pressed every night on the train and have his laundry done if he stops anywhere for a dozen hours."

"Women's clothing is so scant and usually of such light materials that a dozen dresses today will fit where two would have been crowded in their mothers' time."

The automobile and the smaller types of trunks and grips which may be carried, well-stowed and without inconvenience to its passengers, is believed to be another element in producing baggage of less size than in the last generation.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Hogs—receipts, 12,000; market, 10c higher; top, $12.20; bulk, $10.55@12.10; heavy weight, $10.70@11.30; medium weight, $11@12; light weight, $11.30@12.10; light lights, $11.25@12.20; packing sows, $10.20@10.45; pigs, $11.25@12.15.

Cattle—receipts, 8,000; market, steady; calves: receipts, 3,000; market, steady; beef steers, good and choice, $10.50@13; common and medium, $7.50@10; yearlings, $7.50@12.50; butcher cattle: heifers, $5.50@11; cows, $5@8; bulls, $5.50@7.75; calves, $10@13.50; feeder steers, $7@9.50; stocker steers, $6.50@8.50; stocker cows and heifers, $4.50@6.50.

Sheep—receipts, 14,000; market, 25c lower; medium and choice lambs, $14.50@16; culls and common, $11@12.50; yearlings, $10@13; common and choice ewes, $5@9.50; feeder lambs, $13.50@14.50.

CINCINNATI LIVESTOCK

Hogs—receipts, 2,800; heldover, 740. Market: steady to 10c higher. Quotations: 250-350 lbs., $10.85@11.85; 200-250 lbs., $11.75@12.25; 160-200 lbs., $12@12.25; 130-160 lbs., $12@12.25; 90-130 lbs., $10@12; packing sows, $9@10.

Cattle—receipts, 350; calves, 300. Market: slaughter cattle, strong, veal 50c higher, top $14. Bulk quotations: beef steers, $7.50@10.25; light yearling steers and heifers, $7@10; beef cows, $5.50@7.25; low cutter and cutter cows, $4@5.25; vealers, $9@14; heavy calves, $6@9; bulk stock and feeder steers, $5@8.

Sheep—receipts, 450; market: lambs, 50c higher; ewes, steady. Quotations: top, fat lambs, $16; bulk fat lambs, $12@16; bulk cull lambs, $7@11; bulk fat ewes, $5@8.

PITTSBURGH LIVESTOCK

Cattle—Supply, light; market steady; choice, $10.60@11; prime, $10.25@10.60; good, $9.75@10.50; tidy butchers, $9.25@9.65; fair, $8.50@9; common, $7@7.75; common to good fat bulls, $5.75@7.75; common to good fat cows, $5.50@6.50; heifers, $7.25@8.25; fresh cows and springers, $5@10.

Sheep and Lamb—Supply, 800; market, steady to higher; good, (wool) $11; clipped, $9; lambs, (wool), $16.25; clipped, $13.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 1200; market, steady to higher; prime heavy hogs $11.50@11.55; heavy mixed, $12@12.25; mediums, $12.50@12.70; heavy yorkers, $12.50@12.70; light yorkers, $12.70@12.75; pigs, $12.70@12.75; roughs, $9.75@10.50; stags $5.75@11.25.

XENIA LIVESTOCK

Greene County Livestock Shipping Ass'n.

Heavies—$10.25@10.75.

Mediums—$10.75@11.25.

Lights—$11.50@11.75.

Packing sows—$8.75@9.50.

Calves—$9.00.

Sheep—$6.25.

Lambs—$11.55.

DAYTON

Receipts, 4 cars; market, 20c@25c higher.

Heavies, 200 lbs. up — $11.00.

Mediums, 200 lbs. down — $11.50

Light, 140, — $11.85

Pigs, 140 down, — $10@11

Stags — $5@7

Ows — $7@10

Cucumbers, $4.50@5 crate.

Onion, Ohio Yellow, $2.50@3 per sack.

CATTLE

Receipts 11 cars; market, steady

Best fat steers — $8@9

Veal calves — $7@13

Medium butcher steers — $7@8

Medium butcher heifers — $5@6

Best butcher heifers — $7@8

Best fat cows — $5@6

Holstein cows — $3@4

Medium cows — $4@5

Spring lambs — $6@10

Sheep — $2@5

GRAIN

DAYTON

Flour and Grain

(By the Durst Milling Co.)

(Prices being paid for grain at mill.)

Wheat, No. 1, New, $1.18.

Rye, No. 2, 70c per bushel.

Corn, 75c per 100 lbs.

Oats, per bu. 44c.

PRODUCE

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

BUTTER:

Extra, 47 3-4c.

Extra firsts, 47 3-4c.

Firsts, 24 1-2c.

Packing stock, 28c.

Eggs, fresh, 28c.

Extra firsts, 26 1-2c.

Firsts, 25@26 1-2c.

Pulleys, 27c.

LIVE POULTRY:

Heavy fowls, 27c@29c.

Live fowls, 25@26c.

Leghorn fowls, 18@20c.

Heavy broilers, 25@26c.

Springers, 23@24c.

Leghorn broilers, 22@23c.

Roosters, 17@18c.

Geese, 22c@23c.

Ducks, 32c@35c.

POTATOES:

Ohio's, 75c@1.00.

Cobblers, $4@5 in 150 lb. bags.

New Jersey, $1.40 per hamper.

Idaho, $4.50 per 110 lb. bag.

Michigan, $4.00 per 150 lbs.

Minnesota, $2.75@4 per 150 lbs.

Home grown, 90c per half bushel basket.

Wisconsin, $4.25@5.35, 150 lb. bag.

Sweet Potatoes, Jersey, $1.40 per hamper.

Oleo, high grade animal oils, 25c.

@25 1-2c; lower grades, 20c@22c.

Cheese, York State, 27c@30c.

Old, 29@32c.

Apples, Baldwins, $4@4.50.

Maine, $3.50@4.

Tomatoes, $4@5 per 10 lb. basket.

Strawberries, Florida, 20c@25c for 32 qt. crate. Alabama, $6@8.50 per 24 qt. crate.

Louisiana, $4@4.25 24 qt. crate.

Cabbage, 60c@65c per 1-2 bu. basket.

DAYTON PRODUCE

Retail Price

(Corrected by The Joe Frank Co.; Butter, 55c.

Eggs, 25c dozen.

Stewing chickens, 43c.

1926 Fries, 75c lb.

Spring ducks, 23c.

Best roosters, 22c lb.

Live hens, 30c lb.

Prices Being Paid at Plant for Live Poultry and Eggs

Springers, 21c.

Hens, 23c lb.

Colored fries, 25c lb.

1927 leghorn fries, 22c.

Turkeys, 40c lb.

Roosters, 12c lb.

Spring ducks, 20c lb.

Butter

Milk Producers' Association) Butter 55c wholesale.

(By Miami Valley Co-operative

Retail Price

XENIA

Heavy hens, 23c.

Young roosters, 15c.

Leghorns, 15c.

Eggs, 19c.

Dead Chicks

Stop This Loss

Baby chicks die because of wrong feeding and lack of proper care at the start. Stop this loss! BLATCHFORD'S Chick Mash raises the biggest percentage of chicks and matures them quicker. Try a bag and see for yourself.

Blatchford's Chick Mash

$4.95

Per 100

XENIA Hatcheries Co.

AND

Xenia Poultry Farm

Phone 576. P. O. Box 161

Xenia, O.

Write for Catalogue.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER LINES

FARMING IMPLEMENTS
SALES AND SERVICE

Greene County Hardware Co.

FINE performance is the result of fine manufacture. Fine manufacture is the result of long experience. Every Atwater Kent Receiving Set and Radio Speaker is the result of 25 years of making fine electrical equipment. Come in and let us show you

ATWATER KENT RADIO

H. E. EICHMAN

West Main Street

COMING!

Poultry & Hog Specialist

FREE CLINIC

An Educational Short Course

Teaching how to recognize, correctly diagnose, treat and prevent disease and other troubles that are common among poultry and swine.

Learn How to Stop Your Losses

Bring in your unthrifty poultry and pigs and watch a recognized specialist make a post-mortem examination. He will show you where the trouble is and how to save the balance of the flock or herd. However, if your pigs are sick, and you believe or suspect the disease is contagious or infectious, do not bring such animals to the clinic, but notify the undersigned and, if practicable, the Doctor will call and make an examination.

This Service Is FREE-Admission Free Xenia Hatcheries Co. Bldg

Wednesday, March 30, 1927, at 1 p. m.

XENIA OHIO

For Further Particulars See Leland Cramer. Phone 576

Ohio State University Baby Chick Rearing School

To Be Held At Same Time

By R. E. Cray, Poultry Specialist O. S. U.

All those who are interested in raising poultry will want to hear R. E. Cray, Poultry Specialist at Ohio State University, discuss the "Rearing of Baby Chicks." His discussion will include the fundamentals of feeding, care and management in chick rearing.

This meeting will be held March 30, Wednesday, at 1 p. m. in the Xenia Hatcheries Co. building where this company has arranged a free clinic to follow Mr. Cray's discussion.

The clinic will be under the direction of Dr. H. F. Emick who will teach how to recognize, correctly diagnose, treat and prevent disease, and other troubles that are common among poultry. This service is free and this will be a meeting that you cannot afford to miss.

If you have unthrifty poultry bring it in to this clinic and learn how to make a post-mortem examination.

Market Reports

RECEIVED OVER

GREBE And SPARTON RADIOS

A Trial Will Convince You

Xenia Paige Co.

32 W. Main St.

Xenia, O.

Ford

Fordson

Power

Spells

Big Profits

You can increase your acreage and increase the yield per acre by using a Fordson tractor. You get larger crops and improved grades of produce. Crops cost less per acre for labor because one man can do so much with the Fordson. Ample power for all field work and makes money for you on belt work when harvest is over. Let us give free demonstration on your own farm.

BRYANT MOTOR SALES

Green St.

17—19 West Main St.

EDITORIAL

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican published daily except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by the Ohio Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers: Robert E. Ward, Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative, Chicago Office, No. 3 South Wabash Avenue, New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$1.00	$2.50	$4.50	$8.00
Zones 1 and 2	.80	2.00	3.50	6.50
Zones 3, 4 and 5	.70	1.75	3.00	5.50
Zones 6 and 7	.60	1.50	2.50	4.50
Zone 8	.50	1.25	2.25	4.00

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents per week. Single Copy, Three Cents.

Business Office—111 TELEPHONE 111 Editorial Rooms—70
Advertising and Business Office—111
Circulation Department—111
Editorial Department—70

LUCKIEST CONGRESSMAN

The luckiest member of congress-elect is undoubtedly James M. Hazlett, who has been chosen as successor of "Boss" and Senator-elect William S. Vare, to represent the first district of Pennsylvania in the next house of representatives. At noonday of March 4, 1927, Mr. Hazlett joined the payroll of the house at the rate of $10,000 a year. Meantime he remains recorder of deeds in Philadelphia at $10,000 a year. William Tyler Page, the omniscient clerk of the house of representatives, has been consulted as to the right of Representative-elect Hazlett to draw both salaries. Mr. Page points out there is nothing in the United States constitution to make them incompatible. The injunction with regard to holding down two jobs applies only to federal positions. Likewise, according to Mr. Page, there is nothing in the constitution of Pennsylvania to prevent Mr. Hazlett from indulging himself in the luxury of a double payroll.

PROTECTING HOME ART

The British government proposes a new law which would require British movie theatres to exhibit a certain percentage of British-produced films. The purpose is to fight the victorious invasion of American films, which dominate the picture theatres throughout the world.

"Protecting home industries" is a familiar principle of political economics, which Americans understand well enough and other countries are rapidly learning. But protecting home art is something different.

"My contempt for this bill deprives me of the power of speech," remarked George Bernard Shaw, when asked for his opinion of it.

Evidently Shaw thinks the British movie art, like British speaking drama and British painting and sculpture and music, should stand on its own legs, instead of being propped by artificial discrimination against foreign competition.

When British producers make better films than American producers, British theatres will need no legal compulsion to use them.

THE PRISON POPULATION

"Who is in prison?" asks a report of the Ohio clemency board, and gives these answers, which should interest anyone concerned with the criminal problem:

The poor—few prisoners own a home or other property and less than 5 percent of them pay taxes.

The stranger—less than 10 percent commit crimes near home.

The weak—the big majority are influenced by shrewder criminals, or trusted beyond their strength.

The unlettered—fully 85 percent are persons of little schooling.

The friendless—the man without friends or money is easily convicted.

The sport—perhaps 90 percent start in this category.

The dissipated—about 70 percent confess to the use of drink or drugs.

The indolent—few have steady, permanent jobs.

The unattached male—two-thirds are single or divorced or separated from the influence of feminine relatives.

The irreligious—few belong to any church, one-third profess no religion.

The foolish—many stupid rather than wicked.

The convicted—only 13 percent are called upon to pay; the rest escape.

The Theatre

He had come from the West to see Broadway and luck made him a subway guard on a route that passed under the Great White Way without giving him a glimpse of it. She was a society girl who never saw "common people." Both longed for a bit of the gay life that glittered so near them. And on New Year's Eve, she went night clubbing alone, and met the guard who was in a dress suit.

That is the idea back of "Wolf's Clothing," the Warner production starring Monte Blue and Fatsy Miller, which comes to the Bijou Theater, Wednesday night. "Wolf's Clothing" a mystery story by Arthur Somers Roche, was published in Cosmopolitan.

It is commonly accepted in screen circles that the greatest fight scene seen on the screen was staged by Milton Sills and Noah Beery in "The Spoilers" some years ago. Ever since it was released film men have talked of that fight when ever screen battles are mentioned. Up until now, it has stood as the screen's classic hand-to-hand battle. But Thursday, at the Bijou, motion picture goers will see this same pair, in a battle that some critics declare greater than the first. This fight takes place in "Paradise" in which Sills, Beery, Betty Bronson, Kate Price, Charlie Murray, and others star.

The eloquent power of motion pictures of historical events unquestionably was never better expressed than in the filmed spectacle of the amazing Eucharistic Congress of Chicago, which will be presented to the public by His Eminence George Cardinal Muhlendel, at the Bijou, April 7 and 8. Undoubtedly, the screen spectator sees far more and therefore may be more impressed than any among the millions with America. But his wife would not be able to join him until after the marriage of her daughter in April. It was necessary for Claudel to take over this post earlier. The lady of the legation would have to be Reine Claudel, his sixteen-year-old daughter, who was with her father, then Ambassador to Japan.

Officials studied—and the appointment went through.

Today she's the youngest "first lady of the legation" in Washington. On her, almost as much as on her father, will rest the duty of representing France. An unintentional snub to someone who holds power, an innocent afternoon spent with someone who "isn't" and Claudel might be sent scurrying home. But France has confidence in its blond beauty.

She will reign until April, when she will return to France with her father to see her older sister married. After the Mrs. Claudel will join her husband in Washington.

NO FIRE LOSS

No damage resulted from soot burning in a chimney fire at the residence at 120 S. Whitman St., occupied by Clarence Dewey and owned by George Grottenbach, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Firemen extinguished the blaze without difficulty.

"Ma" Has to Settle Their Differences

HEY-MA!... HE'S TRYIN' TO HOG ALL THE COVERS!

Keeping HEALTHY

by Dr. A.F. Currier

SORE THROAT

Ordinary, simple sore throat or acute pharyngitis is a seasonal disease, occurring when the weather is damp and cold and so more frequently in the winter and spring than in the summer and fall.

It spares neither age nor sex. It is common at all periods of life, but particularly during childhood. It occurs more frequently, I should say, after exposure to cold and wet, but it may also come after severe efforts.

DR. CURRIER followed by fatigue, after great excitement or strain, after excesses in eating or drinking, and after injuries of various kinds.

The mucous membrane at the back of the mouth of a person suffering with this trouble is red, swollen, dry and sore, swallowing is difficult and the tonsils are usually swollen and sore at the same time.

The question of infection, that is of effective exposure to germs of varying degrees of virulence, always arises in such cases, and probably such germs always play a part in sore throat, for there is no portion of the body where germs are constantly present in greater number and variety than in the throat, lacking only the favoring conditions to cause disturbance, and when these are present, in the form of any of the exciting causes which I have mentioned, sore throat or pharyngitis follows promptly. There may be with it more or less chilliness and in children it may begin with a convulsion.

A convulsion, by the way, is the form in which disease very often begins in children and is not necessarily a serious symptom nor a reasonable cause for such alarm, as is usually excited by it in a worried and anxious mother. There is usually a little fever, perhaps not more than a degree or two, swelling and tenderness in the glands of the neck and a certain amount of disinclination to perform the ordinary daily tasks.

Patients often complain of feeling "half-sick" without being able to define their symptoms other than soreness of the throat and perhaps the stiffness of their neck, huskiness of their voice and difficulty in swallowing. The throat is dry, perhaps for a day or two and there is a period in which there is more or less of a discharge of mucus after which the trouble gradually disappears.

When we realize the important part which the intestines play in carrying off the poisons of the body, it becomes obvious that the first thing to do in an attack of sore throat is to get the bowels moving freely and there is nothing that accomplishes this work better than castor oil which should be taken every night until the troublesome symptoms have abated.

A good spray or atomizer is also desirable, the nose and throat being sprayed frequently with a solution of tannin or chlorate of potash or menthol. The point is to keep the throat drenched with a good antiseptic and it doesn't matter very much which variety is selected.

If the neck is stiff and sore the application of cold cloths will often give relief. As it is often difficult to say whether the disease is contagious in a given case, it is best to quarantine the sick person, and particularly from children, for it must be remembered that all children are more susceptible to infectious disease than adults, and it is well known that some children are so extremely susceptible that their anxious parents are apt to say of them that "they catch every thing that is going."

Ask Dr. Currier that medical question that has been puzzling you. Confine your letter to fifty words and send stamped, addressed envelope for reply. He cannot, of course, make individual diagnoses, and he reserves the right to decide as to the propriety of queries.

How to Achieve Beauty

LET YOUR EASTER COSTUME ENHANCE YOUR BEAUTY

Helpful Dress Suggestions for the Stout and Thin Woman.

If you possess a stout figure, you should select clothes that will emphasize your height and decrease as much as possible your breadth. You should also avoid selecting a dress or a coat, for that matter, any article of apparel, that has been designed for a slender figure. A garment designed for a size 36, when increased to size 46, ceases to become slenderizing.

If you happen to be this type you should never affect round neck lines and should also steer clear of circular designs in fabrics such as large flowers, large round beads, short strands of beads, round earrings, round shoes, round jewelry or large round buttons.

Slenderness is emphasized by affecting the long vertical lines continued from the top of the head to the point of the toe—by having hat, shoes and gloves to match the color of the costume. If these accessories match in color, even if the dress does not, the eye will travel from the feet to the head and appearance of height, and in turn slenderness will be created.

The stout woman should avoid broken lines, such as a blouse of one color and a skirt of another. Or hose of contrasting color and hat of unmatching shade. Short sleeves which end at the elbow, and therefore continue the breadth of the waistline should never be worn. All to be avoided by the stout woman are fabrics with wide or conspicuous stripes and large plaids which increase size by emphasizing it. Diagonal lines, carefully used rather than straight vertical lines, are more effective in attaining an elongated silhouette.

The stout woman should always avoid wearing too tight clothes, for they will produce the same effect as tight corsets, skirts, sleeves and extremely small hats. Her appearance is considerably influenced by the length of her skirt, which should be regulated to suit the proportions of her figure, but still be within the limits of the mode. A very stout woman cannot adopt extremely short skirts without looking ridiculous. Draperies that begin at the shoulders give a longer effect than those that start at the waistline.

Necklines are a very important consideration and should be influenced by the shape of the face as well as the general figure. A rounded neckline accents too much of a round, full face, whereas the pointed neckline is most slenderizing. It gives a lengthening effect to the entire figure.

The direct opposite of things suitable for the stout woman are usually suitable for the thin woman. The woman who is thin and angular must favor graceful curves. She should avoid the pitfalls of perpendicular lines, tight sleeves, narrow clinging dresses and strictly mannish tailored effects.

Her means of "camouflage" are horizontal lines, full sleeves, broken silhouettes, short skirts, broad hats, high crushed collars, long-haired furs, ruffles, flounces, round yokes, tucks, round or U-shaped necks and bloused effects.

Billowy laces, draperies, sashes, tiered skirts, bouffant effects and large figured materials are all very kindly to the extremely thin woman.

Too narrow shoulders can be given a broadened appearance by a yoke effect which only the very slender woman dares to wear.

Twenty Years Ago - 07-'27

Annual debate between Cedarville and Wilmington Colleges will occur at the former place May 24.

The Springfield and Xenia Traction Co. has purchased 5,000 new ties, which will be used in putting the road in first class condition.

Mr. Snyder, manager of the Xenia skating rink, is confined to his home in London by illness.

Martin Schmidt has repurchased the billiard hall and pool room at Main and West Sts. from Frank Hunt.

KELLYGRAMS

by FRED C. KELLY

HOW BEAUTY IMPROVES US

At lunch yesterday I heard Albert Wigam, well known writer, quote a famous scientist who once declared that Greek art probably changed the shape of faces of whole races in Europe.

The explanation is that as Greek art spread, the more intelligent people in their homes they came to regard the oval faces shown in Greek art as the true type for beauty. In due course, men who appreciated art and beauty sought in marriage the kind of women who most nearly approached the women of their dreams. This naturally affected the appearance of their offspring and as standards of beauty changed the idea spread until large groups had received the imprint of Greek art.

I imagine that a similar influence is at work all the time, with the result that, in the long run, the most comely daughters are reared in homes having good color schemes and good furniture. I don't mean homes full of mere costly stuff, but where everything is attractive and in good taste, no matter how inexpensive. The children don't become beautiful from looking at their surroundings, but more likely because a father capable of appreciating and providing beauty in the home would also have sense enough to pick a beautiful as well as intelligent mother for his children.

Since he seeks like and also produces like, beauty should spring from those parents who demand a reasonable degree of good appearance even in each other.

Their offspring in turn, accustomed to beauty from childhood, will presumably be attracted by those fairer yeasty to look at.

But we still have a long way to go. Men seem to prefer beautiful women; but genuinely alluring women are often less particular. Yesterday I sat in the steam room of a Turkish bath wondering what women secretly think of their husbands.

What unlovely creatures we men folk sometimes are!

Little Old New York

NEW YORK, March 23. — For three months Denny Collins and Circumstance had been rolling round the lot in a knock-down-and-drag-out, free-for-all fight, and Denny had been getting the worst of it.

He couldn't connect with a job, and after tramping the streets all day he would return home at night hungry and discouraged, with a lump of ice at the pit of his stomach and a wad of apprehension stuck in his throat. Thus handicapped, he would spend the evening pushing back his wife's tears, trying to convince her and at the same time persuade himself that there'd be a different story to tell tomorrow.

Victory, he was sure, would slide in with the dawn; but always in its stead, stalked disaster.

Several days ago they were out scouting a job together. The noon hour overtook them on the East Side and they dropped into a Third Avenue Goulash and Coffee Ring Conservatory. Denny climbed round a plate of soup and a shivering mug of Scotch verdict Battle Creek Mocha. The Missus contented herself with a wedge of pie and some milk, served in a glass with chipped edges and the thumb print of the servitor on the rim.

The check amounted to 50 cents. Mrs. Denny, custodian of the bank roll, reached into her flat, greasy purse and reluctantly dragged forth the last dollar of the family fortune. She slipped it surreptitiously to the Worthy Brother, who in turn handed it over to the flaxen-haired Austrian waitress. There would be 50 cents remaining and Mrs. Denny sat feverishly operating a toothpick, apportioning every penny of the half dollar change.

They left the lunch room. On the sidewalk Mrs. Denny extended her red, toll-worn palm.

"Where's the 50 cents change?"

"They's only 40 cents," said Denny, laboriously extracting the coins from his vest pocket.

"Th' check was half a dollar," insisted the Missus.

"Yeh," said Denny, "but I give th' waitress a dime."

"You give th' waitress a dime!" cried the woman. "An' here I be, countin' on walkin' back home to save a nickel fare!" You, with th' wolf at th' door and th' both of us hungry, slippin' a dime to a biscuit shooter—playin' th' gentleman with th' las' few pennies we got in th' world!"

Life was crowding in on the man faster and harder than he could fight it back. A terrific wave of resentment flooded his soul. The sunlight changed to a sickly yellow blur. Fate had double-crossed him all along the line. He'd been given a rougher deal than the rules of fair play warranted. What right had this woman at his side to upbraid him. Hadn't the long weary weeks of frustrated endeavor earned him the right to one cheap, tawdry fling at excess—the luxury of flipping a dime at the grinning divinities of his god-house?

His wife was still harping on his folly. Her voice had become high and querulous.

"Shut up!" he commanded.

But she was hysterical and the words merely prompted her to a fresh outburst.

"Shut up, or—"

A policeman shouldering through the crowd found him standing above her with a razor in his hand. He had slashed her throat from ear to ear.

Circumstance had won on a knockout.

MAKING MODERN MENUS

MORE OMELETS

Very often, as housewives know, the unplanned dish created on the spur of the moment from leftovers is the most successful part of the menu.

If there are eggs around, too, most any sort of leftover can be made into an appetizing omelet.

Ham, chicken, veal or crisped bacon chopped fine and well seasoned with a little cream or milk may be added to the raw omelet mixture, or sprinkled over the upper surface when cooking is nearly done, or arranged around the completed omelet when served.

One of the ever popular omelet accessories is cheese, which may be cut in small bits or grated.

When vegetables are used, they must be chopped and heated in cream and tomato sauce or gravy and added to the egg mixture or spread over the nearly completed omelet as desired. The cooked omelet mixture may be quickly and deftly cut in pieces the size of a slice of bread and laid on slices of buttered toast, spread with anchovy paste.

Even sweet mixtures like rich fruit jams and marmalades blend deliciously with the mild flavored, smooth textured omelet and make it a proper sweet dish for many a meal.

Many 1 Minds

SIGNIFICANT SAYINGS OF THE DAY

"Mystery is essential to romance. . . . When a man and wife become comrades there is no longer mystery. In the days of less freedom and long skirts the feminine ankle was an enticing thing. To-day it has lost its romance. Nobody looks at an ankle now."

Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, British, suffragist, now in United States.

"Some of my friends don't like anything that I have ever written."—Sinclair Lewis, novelist now in the limelight because of his book, "Elmer Gantry."

"The American husband is God's best handwork."—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, famed diva.

"Actors don't need brains. . . . Some of the very greatest certainly haven't got them."—Owen Nares, one of England's foremost actors.

COURT INSTRUCTS VERDICT IN CASE

Jury in the $370 suit of Charles Lewis against William A. Rogers, as administrator of the estate of Amos Gwyn, deceased, returned an instructed verdict in favor of the defendant in Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

At the conclusion of the trial, Judge R. L. Gwyn directed the jury to bring a verdict for Rogers.

Personnel of the jury: G. W. Bishop, H. R. Armstrong, Edna M. Winter, I. C. Davis, T. W. Conklin, Florence Wood, Rollin Varner, William Fudge, I. M. Edgington, Ralph O. Spahr, Lula Hill and G. J. Smith.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Sally's Sallies

Girl, 16, Upholds France's Dignity

Here are two studies of the youngest official hostess in Washington—Reine Claudel. On the shoulders of this sixteen-year-old blonde falls the responsibility of being "first lady" of the French Legation.

When a man is mentioned in high diplomatic post, one of the first questions his government asks is:

"What of his lady?"

For diplomacy goes on in ball rooms and at afternoon teas as well as in the offices of ministers and secretaries. And the "lady of the embassy" must play her part—sometimes harder than the Ambassador.

Only recently an under-secretary of the Egyptian legation in Washington was recalled. His wife had figured in an automobile accident. But that was a minor incident. Graver things may happen.

The wrong person invited to supper, the wrong address made to a dignitary—and a treaty may fall or a nation be ruined.

And when it was proposed to send the poet, Paul Claudel, to America as Ambassador, French officials calculated: Claudel was eminently fitted for the task of handling the delicate French relations with America. But his wife would not be able to join him until after the marriage of her daughter in April. It was necessary for Claudel to take over this post earlier. The lady of the legation would have to be Reine Claudel, his sixteen-year-old daughter, who was with her father, then Ambassador to Japan.

Officials studied—and the appointment went through.

Today she's the youngest "first lady of the legation" in Washington. On her, almost as much as on her father, will rest the duty of representing France. An unintentional snub to someone who holds power, an innocent afternoon spent with someone who "isn't" and Claudel might be sent scurrying home. But France has confidence in its blond beauty.

She will reign until April, when she will return to France with her father to see her older sister married. After the Mrs. Claudel will join her husband in Washington.

RESERVES PLAN NEW SEASON; WILL OPEN ON EASTER SUNDAY

Preparations are being made by Manager Jesse Chambliss, of the Xenia Reserve Baseball Club, for the opening of the diamond season.

The Reserves have definitely decided to enter a new Miami Valley baseball loop known as the Buckeye League, composed of six clubs, including Osborn, Beaver creek, Harshmanville, Dayton Police Bellbrook and Xenia.

The opening game is set for Easter Sunday at Washington Park. This contest will be a non-league affair with a team yet to be selected.

Many new faces will appear in the Reserve lineup this season but the list of eligible players to be carried by the club this year is not available. New players are being signed by Manager Chambliss, assisted by John Shroyer, of Dayton. League games will be played both at home and on foreign diamonds.

Reserves hope to have their new grandstand at Washington Park completed in time for the opening game. The old bleachers have been razed and the work on the erection of the proposed new one will begin soon.

DIAMOND PRACTICE ON AT CEDARVILLE

Cedarville College diamond athletes began spring baseball practice Tuesday in anticipation of a successful season.

Games have been scheduled with Antioch, Wittenberg, Wilmington and Wilberforce and the college is intent upon placing a strong team in the field.

OZARK MOUNTAINEERS BURY DEAD, PREPARE TO REBUILD

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927 JOURNAL, Mo., March 23.—Dazed at first by the suddenness of the disaster which swept away a thousand homes, killed more than a score of people, and did property damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars, the people of the Ozarks are now planning to rebuild their shattered settlements.

In the towns of Klondyke, Mountain View, Collegeville, Willis, Alexander, Green Forest and Denver, where the most severe damage was done, building materials are arriving and work has begun on rehabilitating many ruined homes.

Half the town of Green Forest, Ark., was wiped out by the tornado, which followed the "twister" streets are a mass of debris, and for several nights the town was in darkness, because the lighting plant was destroyed. Rescue work was done by lantern light.

The storm, which lasted only for 15 minutes, was accompanied by high winds, heavy rain, and hail. Roads were blocked by huge trees, blown down by the terrific gale, which swept a path about three-quarters of a mile wide, over a distance of about fifteen miles from Berryville to Green Forest. Nine were killed in Denver and sixteen in Green Forest. Dozens of others were injured, many by falling walls, when their homes collapsed about them.

These pictures, first from the scene of the disaster, tell eloquently of the extent of the damage.

1—All that remains of the cabin home of Elmer Bryant after the storm had passed.

2—Collegeville school house, where thirty children were caught by the twister which demolished the building. Several youngsters were hurt, but miraculously, no one was killed.

3—Three people were crushed to death in these ruins. Remains of the Klondyke home of Lennie Cash, 22, where he and two relatives, Matthew Cash, 17, and Artie Cash, 15, were killed. Their mother, a widow, escaped.

4—In this house a whole family perished. Edgar Smith, his wife, and their two children, Inez, 6, and Clifton, 2, were caught by the collapsing walls.

SEVEN POLICE WILL SHARE IN PROCEEDS FROM BENEFIT SHOW

Members of the Xenia Police Department realized a profit of $585.25 from the recent benefit moving picture and amateur show, with which to purchase new uniforms and equipment, a final checkup disclosed Wednesday.

Seven regular officers will share in the distribution of the proceeds.

Gross receipts from the three performances amounted to about $708 with expenses totalling approximately $123. The check revealed 1,311 tickets were sold.

Officers plan to place orders for new equipment as soon as possible in order that the uniforms will be available by Decoration Day.

Major share of credit for the success of the benefit show is given Mrs. Jane Bell, who was directly responsible for arranging for the vaudeville acts by local talent. Mrs. Bell was instrumental in the presentation of the minstrel act and grouping of the various local people participating in the performance. Patrolman Fred Jones also assisted the department materially in supervising the sale of tickets, arranging the complete program and taking charge of routine details.

Members of the department are taking this opportunity of expressing appreciation for public patronage of the show.

ALBERT FERGUSON DIES WEDNESDAY

Albert Lee Ferguson, 66, died at the farm home where he was born on the Clifton and Old Town Pike, seven miles north of Xenia, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from a complication of ailments induced, it is thought, by an attack of pneumonia last fall.

He was born January 29, 1861 and was a prominent farmer in that vicinity of the county. He was also an elder of the United Presbyterian Church at Clifton for the past twenty-five years.

Surviving are three sons, W. B. and Robert L. Ferguson, at home, and Paul, pastor of the U. P. Church at Peebles, O., and one sister, Miss Elvira Ferguson, at home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home with burial in Woodland Cemetery, Xenia.

Giant Recruit

Luis Almada, an 18-year-old Cuban portside, is receiving a tryout with the New York Giants at the spring training camp at Sarasota. So far Almada has shown up very well and may be retained by McGraw for the coming season.

MRS. MARY LINTON DIES SUDDENLY AT FARM HOME TUESDAY

Mrs. Mary A. Linton, 79, was found dead at her farm home in Chester Twp., Clinton County, two miles south of New Burlington, by her brother, James Bailey, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Death is attributed to heart disease. Mrs. Linton had been in ill health for several years but relatives had no intimation of the seriousness of her condition.

She is thought to have been a victim of sudden heart attack. Mrs. Linton lived alone but her brother, James Bailey, paid visits to her home several times each week.

She was a life-long resident of Clinton County.

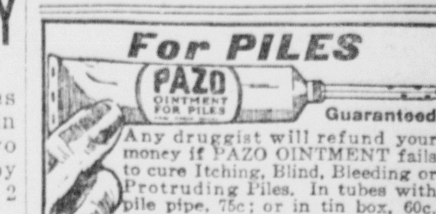

Surviving are two brothers, Jonas, Xenia, and James of near Wilmington. Her husband passed away nearly thirty years ago.

Mrs. Linton was a member of the Sharon Church in Chester Twp., end of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. Funeral services will be held at the church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Mr. Curless, pastor of the M. E. Church, assisted by the Rev. S. D. Chancellor, pastor of the M. E. Church at Lumberton. Interment will be made in the New Burlington Cemetery.

FOUR SCREENINGS OF BENEFIT MOVIE

Four performances of "London" starring Dorothy Gish, will be held at the Bijou Theater, Thursday March 31, Mrs. L. S. Hyman, who is sponsoring the picture, announces. Proceeds will be donated to a needy Xenia family.

A matinee performance will be held at 3:30 for the benefit of school children, and three shows will be given in the evening, the first beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Sniffling, Sneezing?

If you're always sneezing, sniffling; if your head is stuffed up and your ears ring . . . Beware of serious trouble might result. Let new Musterole Laxative Cold Tablets help bring you quick, safe relief.

No griping or head buzzing. Musterole Cold Tablets will usually stop that head cold without bad after-effect. Take them at the first warning sign. Prepared by makers of famous Musterole, used everywhere for relieving muscular pains and chest colds. All Drug-gists, 35c.

The Musterole Company, Cleveland, O.

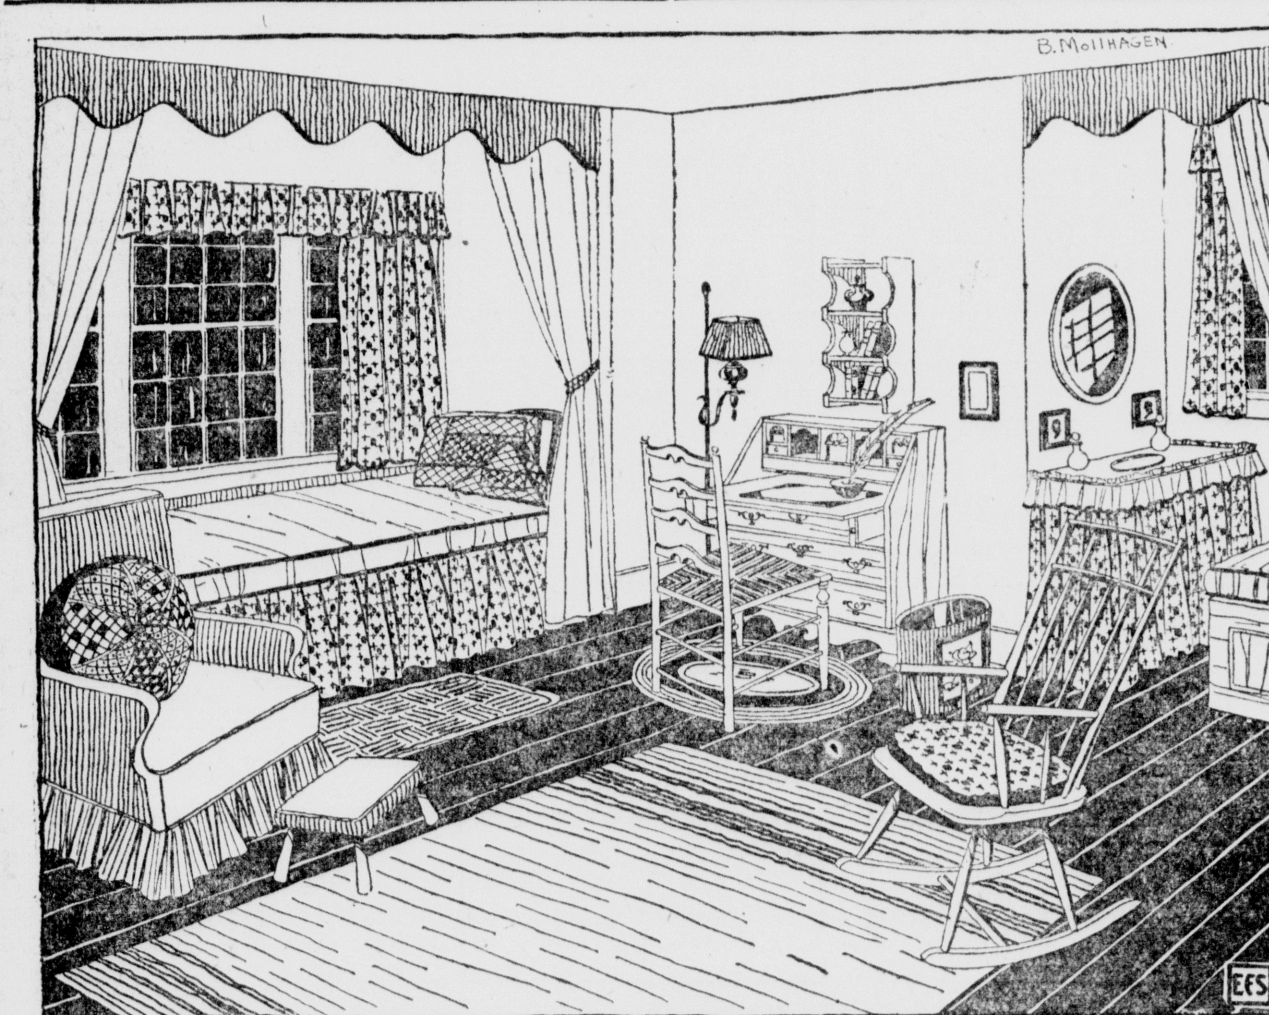

U. S. WATCHES RADIO TO BALK WAVE LENGTH MISUSE

Apparatus used by the U. S. bureau of standards in checking up on broadcasting stations and preventing "bootlegging" in wave lengths.

GINGHAM SOLVES SCHEME FOR STUDY

By HILDA HUNT

Consider the young girl's study. Unless the house is extra roomy there is little chance of giving her a study without combining it in to a bedroom as well. The furniture should be simple and limited to the necessary pieces only. A feeling of space is essential to study as it is to sleep. The overcrowded room is always disturbing. A day bed is preferable for this type of room, because it is in reality a living room to its occupant. A desk is another essential, and it is wise to secure a desk with plenty of drawer room, like the one in the sketch, affording a place for school books, papers and other supplies. The little wall shelf above the desk is a handy adjunct. A floor lamp should be grouped with the desk. A draped dresser, in the room illustrated, was placed in a window alcove, and drapes were used so that it could be entirely cut off, eliminating all appearance of a bedroom. Draw curtains have been used on all windows to control the light. The overstuffed chair is grouped with another floor lamp which does not show in the sketch. An old fashioned rocker and a rush bottom desk chair complete the furnishing with the addition of drapes and rugs.

Most girls adore blue, and so a soft green-blue one-tone gingham was used in combination with a novelty blue and green and yellow gingham with a black thread. The walls were in cream yellow. Yellow spots were used in the cushions, the lamp shades and the scrap basket of tole, which is simply painted tin. A rag rug of gingham carrying out the blue, yellows and black of the color scheme was used for the floor, and a hooked gingham rug with plenty of orange, black and green was used by the day bed. The advantage in using gingham rugs was that they would wash without injury to fabric or color.

As a matter of fact this was the secret of using gingham throughout—that the room should retain its fresh crispness without necessitating the delay and expense of dry cleaning. The overstuffed chair was covered with a removable slip cover that, too, might be kept fresh and clean through laundering. Covering chairs of this character with gingham slip covers is a happy solution. It enables one to carry out a color scheme without much expense, and also to keep a much used chair clean.

P. A.

-the password to pipe-pleasure

GIVE the sign to the man behind the counter and he will hand you a tin of the grandest tobacco that ever snuggled in the bowl of a pipe. Throw back the lid and revel in that tantalizing aroma of real tobacco. Load up and light up. There you have it!

That is Prince Albert, Gentlemen—smoked by more men than any other pipe-brand. This overwhelming preference didn't "just happen." It exists for the single reason that P. A. brings more deep-down, solid satisfaction out of a pipe than any diet you could put it on.

The very first pull will tell you that Prince Albert is unlike any other tobacco. Notice how cool it smokes, no matter how wide you open the throttle. Notice, too, that it doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you fill-up and pull-in.

You may think you are all set on a smoke-program. Fair enough. But don't let that interfere with your getting a first-hand knowledge of what P. A. offers in real pipe-pleasure. Where there's so much P. A. smoke, there must be the fire of truth. Try it and see!

PRINCE ALBERT

—the national joy smoke!

WHAT to WEAR and HOW to WEAR IT

By LUCY CLAIRE
Favorite Fashion Adviser
of the Smart Set.

From the tiny Eton jacket that just approaches the waistline, suit coats have lengthened to a jacket that crosses the hips. And as though some sort of a compromise should be arrived at, the very long ensemble coats, that have, in previous years reached to the hem of the skirt, are now creeping up to a three-quarter length. At first sight, this always seems to be an awkward arrangement because we have been schooled to take our fashions in extremes. But as soon as we become convinced of the smartness of the style, we find that it is one of the most pleasing and natural proportions to wear.

I told you that we liked our patterns in extremes—take for example the materials being used this season. They are exactly the opposite of what we considered so smart last year. They checked patterns known as pinhead checks are being used a great deal for street costumes and occasionally we find the basket weave in self colors used in a pattern about an inch square. But any of the larger or more bold designs are definitely relegated to the sport mode.

Let us examine the ensemble suit at the left with its three-quarter length coat which terminates at a point about twelve inches above the hem of the skirt. The entire suit is made in a tiny pinhead check in black and white gingham. Black and white, I have told you, is one of the smartest color combinations for spring wear—but when you take it in one of the miniature checked patterns and in gingham besides, then you can be assured of selecting a combination that will be as smart as it is youthful and as durable as it is economical.

I cannot imagine any patterned material needing a quantity of detail for trimming. The pattern of the material is sufficient and all other details introduced tend to destroy its value. That is why I like this suit with its straight one-piece dress and simple matching coat with only tucks for trimming—introduced in groups of three, a half inch each in width. The coat has been lined throughout in a soft melon shade of gingham and the tiny felt hat is in the same pastel tint.

The suit at the right utilizes the basket-weave pattern I have mentioned above, as well as the concentrated movement toward the front. Needless to say, this style can be successfully affected only by the very slender figure with sufficient height to carry this fullness. We have had circular skirts, continuous godets and side flares. Now the tendency is toward an upward circular movement in the front. Many of the newest gingham patterns may be found in basket weave designs showing the newest color combinations—I have a preference for beige combined with golden brown, two tones of green, or light and dark navy blue. The lining of the coat as well as the facing of the flares is in plain colored gingham for the same tone as the material.

Next I am going to show you some lovely lace frocks that are adapted to a variety of uses.

FINED FOR DRIVING AUTO WHILE DRUNK

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated, Elmer Clark, 49, Fairfield, O., was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs and serve six months in the Dayton Workhouse, by Municipal D'Alvarez, during the Victor hour, Judge W. G. Powell in Dayton, Tuesday.

Clark was arrested Sunday night after he had driven through a safety zone in Dayton, injuring three women, one perhaps fatally. A manslaughter charge is being held in readiness to place against Clark in the event the more seriously injured woman, Mrs. J. P. Steer, 77, in St. Elizabeth Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries, does not survive the accident.

EDWARD HART WILL BE HEARD ON RADIO

Edward Hart, New York City, former Xenian, well known musician, will appear on the radio program from Station WJZ, New York, Friday night, at 8:30 Eastern Standard time or 7:30 p. m., Central Standard time.

Mr. Hart will accompany Mme.

IMPROVES APPETITE
... QUICKLY
Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels free from effects. They relieve the desire for food. Remember they are a doctor's prescription and can be given to every member of the family. 25c and 75c red packages.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Do One Washing FREE

in this

ABC
Double A
ELECTRIC WASHER

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP IT,
WE WILL ARRANGE TERMS TO SUIT YOU.

This is an opportunity to secure one of these everlasting copper-tub washers on such easy terms that you will never miss the payments. This is the washer all women want no matter what they buy, for it washes cleaner, faster, and with ut most safety to clothes.

It does not tangle or tear clothes, requires no oiling, is quiet, everything you could want in a washer—many things you can get in no other washer.

Phone now for an ABC Double A and do a washing free.

The Dayton Power & Light Co
Xenia District

DUNKEL'S GROCERY

33 W. Main St.

the three-act comedy, which is being directed by Miss Susanne Emrick, instructor of English literature in the school.

The leading characters are being taken by Kathleen Huff, Hazel Griffith, Donald Peterson, Harold Harlock, with Frances Grooms and William Beam in the comedy roles. Reserved seat sale is on at Copsey's Grocery, Spring Valley and at the Haydock Store, New Burlington.

LEARN OF DEATH OF UNCLE IN INDIANA

Mrs. D. S. Belt, Alpha, and Spring Valley Road, has received word of the death of her uncle, Moses H. Dilts, Winamac, Ind., which occurred a few days ago. Mr. Dilts was taken ill and removed to the Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis, for an operation. Complications developed, causing his death.

In 1874, Mr. Dilts married Miss Rachel Williamson, of near Xenia, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clark Williamson. He was well known in Xenia and at the time of his death was engaged in the real estate business and was vice president of the Union Bank and Trust Co. of Winamac.

INDIAN TO APPEAR ON LECTURE COURSE

Chief Strongheart, a full-fledged Indian and director of the Cecil De-Mille picture corporation will close the current lecture course sponsored by the Beaver Creek Grange at the K. of P. Hall, Alpha, Friday night, March 25 with a talk on "From Peace Pipe to War Trail."

The Indian chief's appearance is for the fifth and final number on the course. He will appear in native costume. Born on the Yakima reservation, Chief Strongheart has made numerous visits to Washington, D. C., in the interest of his race. The program begins at 8 o'clock.

The grange is extending thanks to Xenia merchants for their interest in the course.

FREE PRISONERS

CINCINNATI, O., March 23.—Four prisoners convicted of liquor law violations in village courts were free today following habeas corpus actions brought in their behalf by the county prosecutor's office under the recent decision of the supreme court.

ORPHIUM TONIGHT

FRANK MERRILL
The World's Champion Athlete in
"THE FIGHTING DOCTOR"

A perfect entertainment—thrills and stunts, beauty and romance
Also a 2 reel comedy
Admission 15c

THURSDAY
MAE MURRAY
in
"VALENCIA"

A colorful tale of love, plot and counterplot, set against the background of sunny Spain.
A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture
"GOLF WIDOWS"—A 2 Reel Comedy.
Admission 20c for this picture.

Real American

Lewis Ware of the Kiowa tribe is the first "original American" to sit in the Oklahoma legislature. He has made himself conspicuous by opposition to the K. K. and prohibition.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN
JULES WAS UPSIDE DOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 22.—Jules Venable, a doughty lad, was

SULPHUR CLEARS SKIN RIGHT UP

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowies Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. —Adv.

standing on his head when Police-man Carney came along. To Jules the John Law said: "You're tight, ol' scout, you're stowed, you're soused, you're paralyzed, in fact; and to the judge the cop explained he'd caught Jules in the act of loafing on a corner, upside down, and in reverse. The judge looked stern. It seemed to Jules things could not be much worse. Then, "Hold!" the prisoner cried, alarmed, while tears stood in his eyes. "Judge, I'm an acrobat, and I was taking exercise." "Prove it," the judge said tensely, and Jules promptly took his cue. Upon his head he stood at once. One minute passed, then two, three, four, five minutes sped away; Jules held his balance right. "Discharged," the Cadi said, at last—"but I still think you WERE tight."

BANDITS? NO. CAT!

CLEVELAND, O. — "Burglars, thieves, safe crackers," shouted Samuel Miller into the telephone connected with police headquarters here the other night. A squad of patrolmen dashed to the premises occupied by the Sanitary Laundry company, 840 E. Ninety-third St.

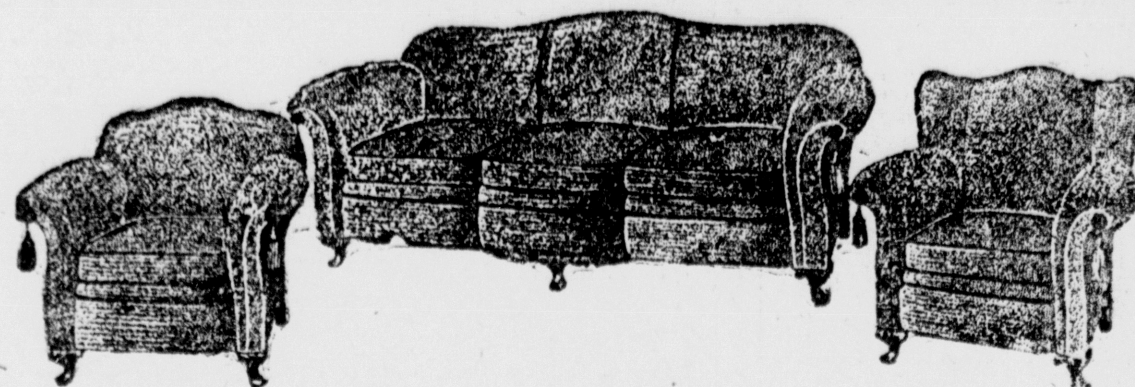

They found Miller, night watchman pale and trembling. Sounds indicating a riot came from the office. The lock was broken and with revolvers drawn the police dashed in upon a large tomcat which had knocked over a couple of tin pails while pursuing a mouse.

FLU-GRIP
Check before it starts.
Rub on—inhalant vapors
VICKS
VAPORUB
Over 81 Million Jars Used Yearly

ADAIR'S

3 Piece Mohair Living Room Suite

An Outstanding Value at $185.00

Covered In A High Grade Heavy Mohair
A Massive Barrell Front Suite

The sides and back of this suite are covered in mohair same as the front. The reverse side of the cushion is covered in a beautiful damask. The construction is guaranteed. You can't buy a better one. This is a special value and cannot be duplicated.

ADAIR'S

NEW SPRING SILKS

An endless assortment of the season's newest patterns and colors to make your selection from.

Jacquard Crepe, 38 in. Special at $1.39

Printed Silk and Cotton Crepes. Good selection of new patterns and colors 85c

Printed Silk and Cotton Foulards at 75c

Honey Moon. A new fabric for Princess Slips. A wonderful material. All good colors at $1.69

Printed Crepe de Chine in all the new small printed effects at

$1.95 - $2.50

Printed Radiums at $1.50

Printed Chiffons, all new colors at $2.50

New lingerie materials, all the newest colors are here to choose from 39c

Mercerized Checked Dimities. In all the new and wanted shades at 39c

Printed Crepe Plisse, all the newer patterns are here for you to choose from at 35c

Plain Voiles in the season's newest colors at 29c - 59c

NEW SPRING COTTON GOODS

English Prints, Miss Muffet, 36 in. Colors guaranteed. Large selection at 29c

Dumarette Prints mercerized finish. Colors guaranteed 39c

Mercerized Cotton Foulards. An excellent cloth. Large selection of patterns to choose from 49c

Tot Play Cloth. Short lengths. A 25c value at 15c

GINGHAMS. Short lengths. 36 in. 25c values, new patterns at 19c

LINEN CRASH. All linen crash bleached and unbleached. Regularly worth 25c to 35c for the different grades per yard 19c

Blue Bird Mull. Very fine material for children's wear and lingerie. Special at 20c

ROYAL SOCIETY

EMB. FLOSS

1c Skein

CRETONNE SHOE

BAGS

Beautiful Patterns

12 1-2c

10c BATH SOAPS

Kirks Hard Water Castile; Jergen's Violet, Royal Palm, Cucumber Olive, Uncle Sam's Hand Soap.

4 for 25c

GORDON RAYON UNDERWEAR

Vest, Pink, Peach, Orchid

85c

Bloomers, Pink, Peach and Orchid.

$1.50

SILK HOSE SPECIALS

RAYON SILK HOSE In all the new shades and sizes. 49c

WESTCOTT PUNCTURE PROOF HOSE All silk to hem. All colors and sizes. $1.00

WAYNE KNIT SILK HOSE 793 A Full fashioned silk hose in all colors and sizes at $1.50

GORDON CHIFFON HOSE $2.00 Chiffon Silk Hose. Broken sizes only $1.39. 3 pairs for $4.00

JOBE BROTHERS

TWO "TRIAL SEPARATIONS" FAIL

THYRA WINSLOW (ABOVE) AND (INSET)
DORIS STEVENS MALONE.

By MARY BLADE
Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927
NEW YORK, Mar. 23—Two more wives, after "living their own lives" for a time in "trial separations," have decided that a career is preferable to wedlock.

Thyra Samer Winslow, who broke into the best magazines with her short stories about marriage, and into the front page in 1924 with her year's "vacation" from her husband, John Seymour Winslow, is through with that marriage. There's no "experiment" about her suit for divorce.

And Dudley Field Malone, internationally-noted divorce lawyer and counsel for Gene Tunney and Gertrude Ederle, has parted from his Lucy Stone league wife, Doris Stevens, social service worker and women's rights campaigner.

The Malone divorce will not take place immediately, however. Miss Stevens is spending the winter at Juan les Pins, Italy, while the lawyer is living in his apartment in Paris. They agreed to appeal to the French courts for divorce months ago, but their plans were changed a short time ago. Malone, who aided Clarence Darrow in the anti-evolution fight in Dayton, Tenn., is a Roman Catholic and reluctant to dissolve his marriage vow.

The Winslow marriage won first page importance in New York in February, 1924, when Mrs. Winslow took up her residence in a city apartment, while her husband maintained the former home of the twain on Long Island.

The "vacation" lasted a year. It was, Mrs. Winslow said in numerous interviews at that time, "a great success." It prevented the "merging of personalities" and allowed the development of their separate individualities.

But in suing for a divorce, the authoress accuses her husband of infidelity.
"I still believe that an author can have her career and her home, too," she says.

COATS AND PANTS
PARIS.—"I am the Vicomte de Callariso," said a haughty client to the room clerk at a fashionable hotel here. "I have just returned from a long sojourn in the Sahara desert, and I feel the cold. That is why I am wearing this fur coat. I want the warmest room in the house." He got it. With his ankle-length coonskin, beneath which showed only spatted insteps above patent leather shoes, he marched away. An hour later his bell rang furiously. "I've been robbed," the angry vicomte cried. "Some miscreant has stolen my trousers and all my money was in the pockets."

The manager apologized, loaned his guest an extra pair of trousers and 2000 francs. The vicomte walked out. Now the manager is in mourning for one pair of trousers, only slightly used, and 2000 francs as good as new.

ADMINISTRATORS GET APPOINTMENTS

W. S. Rogers has been named administrator of the estate of Eva
H. White, deceased, in Probate
Court, and has filed bond of $1,- 000.

John F. Hayes has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Hayes, deceased, with bond of $3,200. W. J. Kennedy, C. E.
Arbogust and C. W. Whitmer were named appraisers.

GUARDIAN NAMED

Harper Devoe has been appointed guardian of Aaron Devoe, alleged imbecile, with $2,000 bond in Probate Court.

I'm Most Grateful Every Month

Here's glorious news for long-suffering womankind! To every woman who periodically has suffered pain. Menstruation need no longer be painful. And it is Science that is speaking!

Specialists have developed a tiny tablet called midol. It's a simple thing, utterly harmless to a girl of fourteen, but it brings relief in five to seven minutes.
And is effective twelve hours or longer!

Midol is NOT narcotic. It has no effect whatever on heart or nervous system. It acts directly on those organs affected by menstruation. They function normally as they should, but the pain is banished. Complete relief—yes, perfect comfort—follows midol.

Your druggist has midol for 50 cents, in a slim aluminum box to tuck in your purse.

Midol
Takes Pain Off the Calendar

BEAUTIFICATION IS SUBJECT OF SPEECH

The pleasure resulting and the small cost involved in beautifying residences and roadsides with the planting of flowers and shrubbery, were points stressed by Sherwood
Snyder, Dayton, in an address to Xenia Kiwanis Club, Tuesday evening, at the Elks' Club.

In addition to his interesting talk, Mr. Snyder showed seventy lantern slides of the finest gardens over the world and several scenes of the last flower show held in Dayton.

Mrs. Charles Kelbie, president, and Miss Katherine Schweibold, and Harper Kepler, other officers of the Xenia Garden Club, were guests of the Kiwanians for the dinner and address. John E. Daly and Dr. A. M. Patterson, other officers of the local garden club, are members of the Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Sherwood accompanied her husband to the meeting, which was one of the most enjoyable on the year's calendar for Kiwanians.

EAST END NEWS
MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
TEL. 91-R

Zachary Lett, 79, retired farmer, and for the past seven years employed at the O. S. and S. O.
Home, died at 10:55 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rosa Ware, 730 E.

Market St.

Mr. Lett was born in Moorefield,
W. Va., the son of Caleb and Abidal Lett but for a great number of years had lived in Greene County. He was the last member of the immediate family.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs.
Rosa Ware, and one son, William C. Lett. His wife preceded him in death seven years ago. A number of nephews and nieces also survive.

Decedent was a member of the First A. M. E. Church where funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the Rev. P. P. Hill, Cincinnati, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Fisher, pastor of the church, officiating.

Interment will be made in Cherry Grove Cemetery.
Regular meeting of John Roan

Post, No. 517, American Legion,
Thursday evening, 7:30 at the Elks' Hall on Main St. Business of importance.

IS CELEBRATING RECORD IN GROCERY

Arch Copsey, Spring Valley grocer, is planning to celebrate his thirty-fifth anniversary in the grocery business Saturday.

He is arranging for a tea and coffee demonstration and free lunch.

Mr. Copsey entered the employ of E. M. Kent in a grocery store thirty-five years ago, later worked for C. H. Hubble and then became the partner of Stout Britton, the ally purchasing his partner's interest.

BUTTER
OUR OWN MAKE
50c lb.
WADDLE'S
W. MAIN ST.

New Spring Furnishings

New Spring Draperies

If you want hangings that are different and distinctive drop in and see the wonderful display of new fabrics from 25c yard up.

Curtains

The housewife's opportunity to brighten her windows for the sunny months!

Ruffled Curtains

75c to $2.00 pr.

Silk Marquisette Curtains

$5.50 to $6.50 pr.

Lace Net Curtains

$1.75 to $8.00

Curtain Net by the yard

25c up

Will Make Such a Difference In Your Home

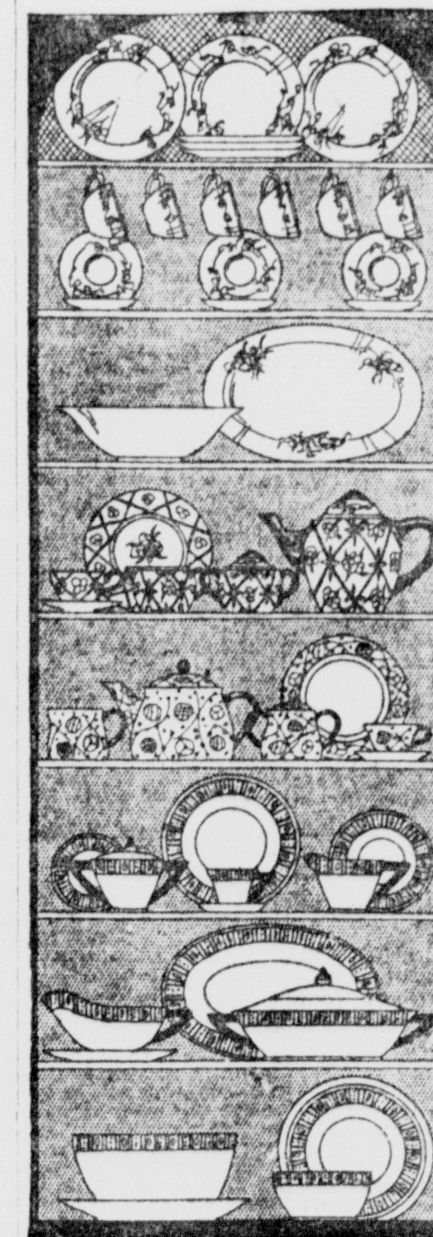

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR EASY PAYMENT PLAN

REPLENISH RUGS FOR THE HOME NOW!

Spring renovating—time to replenish floor coverings! And here are the prices to do it economically!

9x12 Brussels Rugs $22.50
9x12 Axminster Rugs $36.75

HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINETS

$39.00-$44.00-$46.50-$51.50

HOOSIER BREAKFAST SETS

$36.00 - $44.50

REFRIGERATORS

$13.50 to $49.50

Box Trunks $12.50

Suit Cases $1.00

Traveling Bags $5.00

CURTAIN STRETCHERS

$2.00, $2.50 and $3.50

WHITE ENAMEL BREAD BOXES

$1.00 and $1.25

ENAMEL WARE, ALL WHITE

Combinets 79c 17 qt. Dish 79c

Water 79c 6 qt. Cov. 79c

Pails First Quality

Good galvanized garbage pail 89c

Apex Electric Sweepers $45.00

Dinner-Ware

42 PIECE DINNER SET

Special Price

$6.95

Many attractive patterns
in open stock dinner ware

Printed and Inlaid Linoleum

Delightful small patterns now in vogue are shown in great abundance.

Cork Printed Linoleum—2 yards wide .

90c and $1.00 sq. Yd.

Cork Printed Linoleum—3 and 4 yds. wide.

$1.10 sq. Yd.

Cork Inlaid Linoleum

$1.50 and $1.65 sq. Yd.

GARLAND GAS RANGES

$53.50 - $65.00 - $75.00

$87.50

RADIANT GAS HEATERS

$14.75 and up

OIL STOVES, 3 BURNERS

$25.00, $27.00 and

$38.50

Leathers
Tapestries
Or What Will
You Have?

UPHOLSTERING AND REFINISHING
Of Furniture
Fred F. Graham Co
We Call For And Deliver

All Work
Guaranteed
Phone No. 3
For Estimate
20% OFF
THIS MONTH

Campus Romance Ends in Tragedy

Booneville, Miss., is astir over the murder of Mrs.
Hennon V. Clayton as she lay beside her 4-month-old babe in the Clayton home.
Her husband, whom she met and married while in college, is under arrest. Clayton denies committing the crime, attributing it to a mistake of
"assassins" who have been threatening him for some time.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Just AMONG US GIRLS

by Kathryn Kenney

"NEXT, PLEASE"

The way women are doing away with their husbands, the wedding march only has one minute to play!

Just because a woman thinks that the man she married is the whole works, that's no excuse for "shooting the works".

There ought to be some sort of love game laws so that a husband who married in June is reasonably certain of lasting until fall.

Perhaps the reason that husband-killing is not as popular as it was last year is because women realize that it's better to kiss them than kill them. After all, what is just a first husband to one girl may be a second to someone else. But after the harrowing experi-

Occasionally you see a picture in the paper of a woman who has killed nine husbands and is looking for more. Her hair looks like a reversible beard, and the figure is up in the hundreds.

She marries them at the point of a gun and pulls the trigger a few days later. They fall for her with a hole in their chest! Nobody can understand why men keep marrying her unless they just haven't the nerve to commit suicide!

Some husbands would welcome death after marriage, they furnish the house and wife furnishes the cemetery lot.

This is the type of woman who keeps a wreath in the front vest-

HER AIM IN LIFE

ences of a modern marriage, a man generally feels that he'll be second to none!

Some women who work hard to get husbands work just as hard to get rid of them. If they must get their man dead or alive, they'd rather have them dead. Dead men tell no tales, unless they're kept in a diary!

Some women go in one door with a marriage license and come out the other with insurance. They don't want a divorce because when they're through with a thing it's going to be stamped out! Nobody else is going to use their sanitary wrinking cup!

and a "Drive It Yourself" hearse.

If your wife has already taken three quick tricks in marriages its a cinch you'll never have to put the awnings out. But if you crave adventure, just marry one of these women who pets 'em and poisons 'em!

You may die with your shoes on, but without your watch! When a man says "Don't shoot, it's only me," she will say, "Bring the others in and I'll finish you all at the same time."

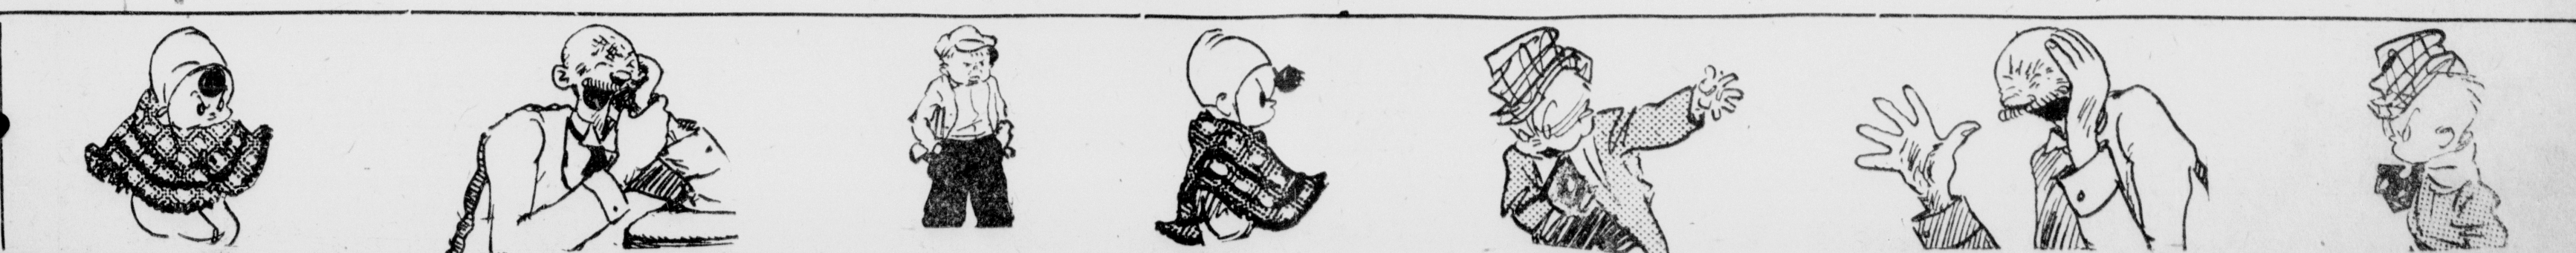

Many a woman's aim in life is not so good—but she knicks 'em just the same!

Goofy Dust

-- AND PEOPLE LIKE THIS VOTE !!

That's Not the Half of It

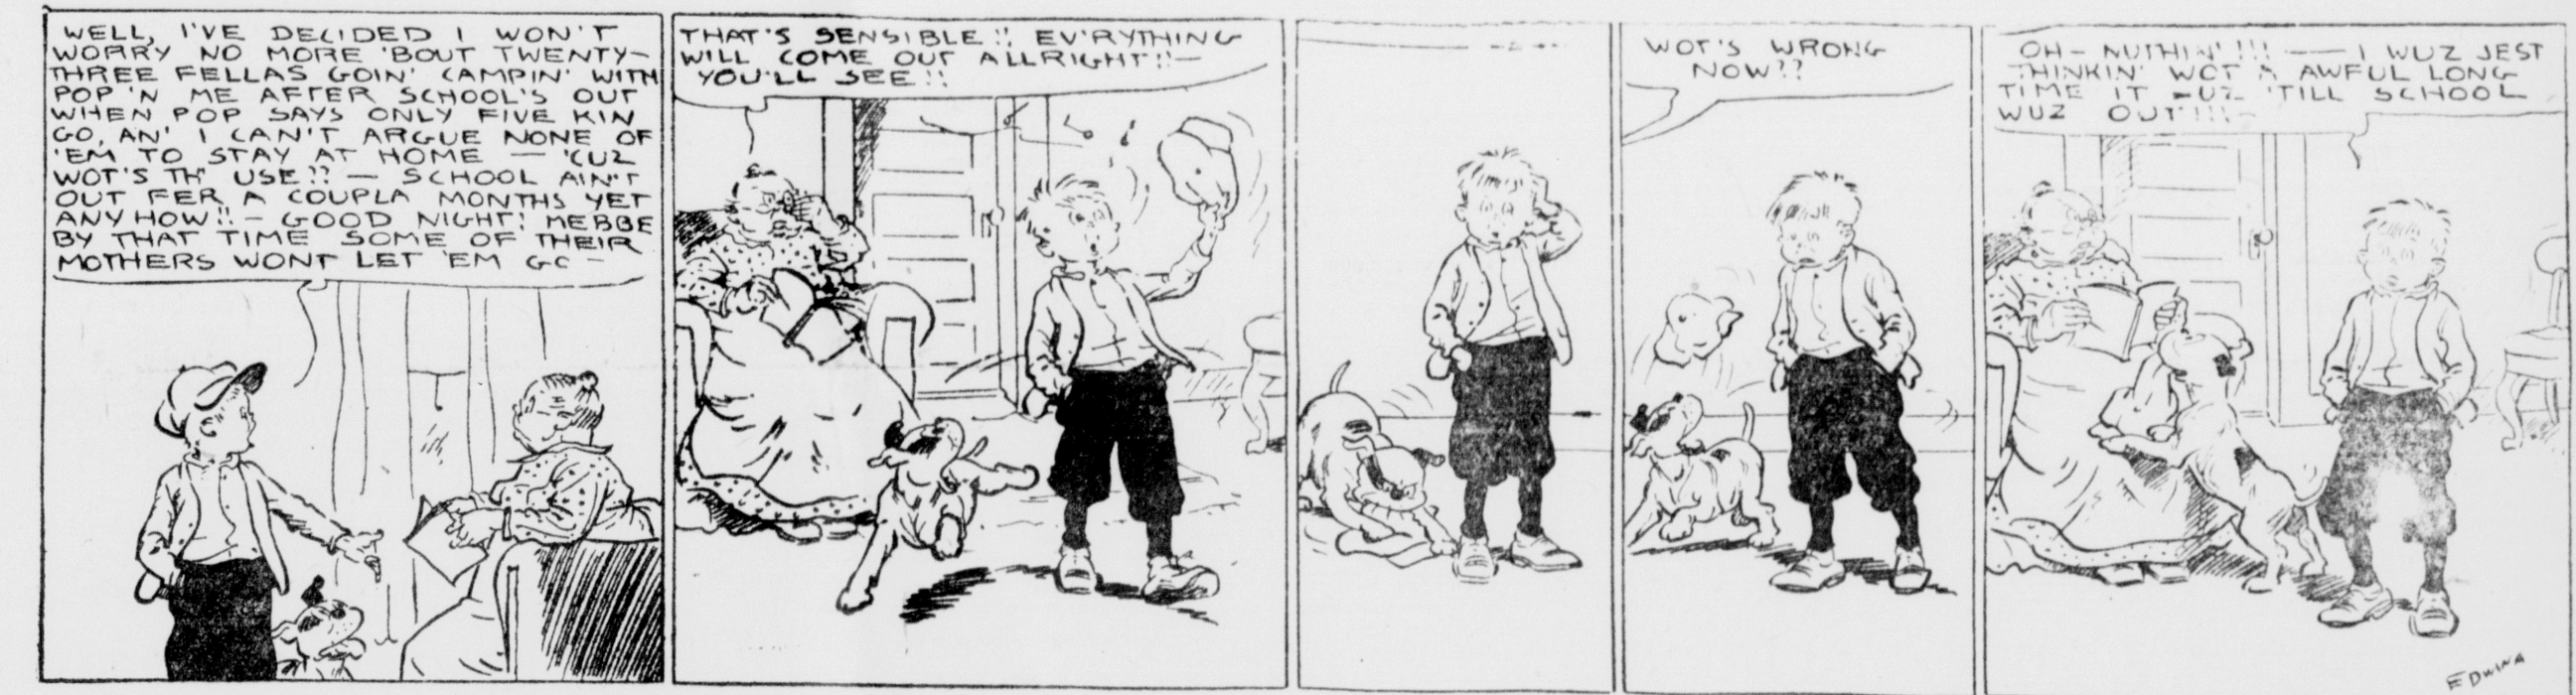

THE GUMPS—ALL ALONE

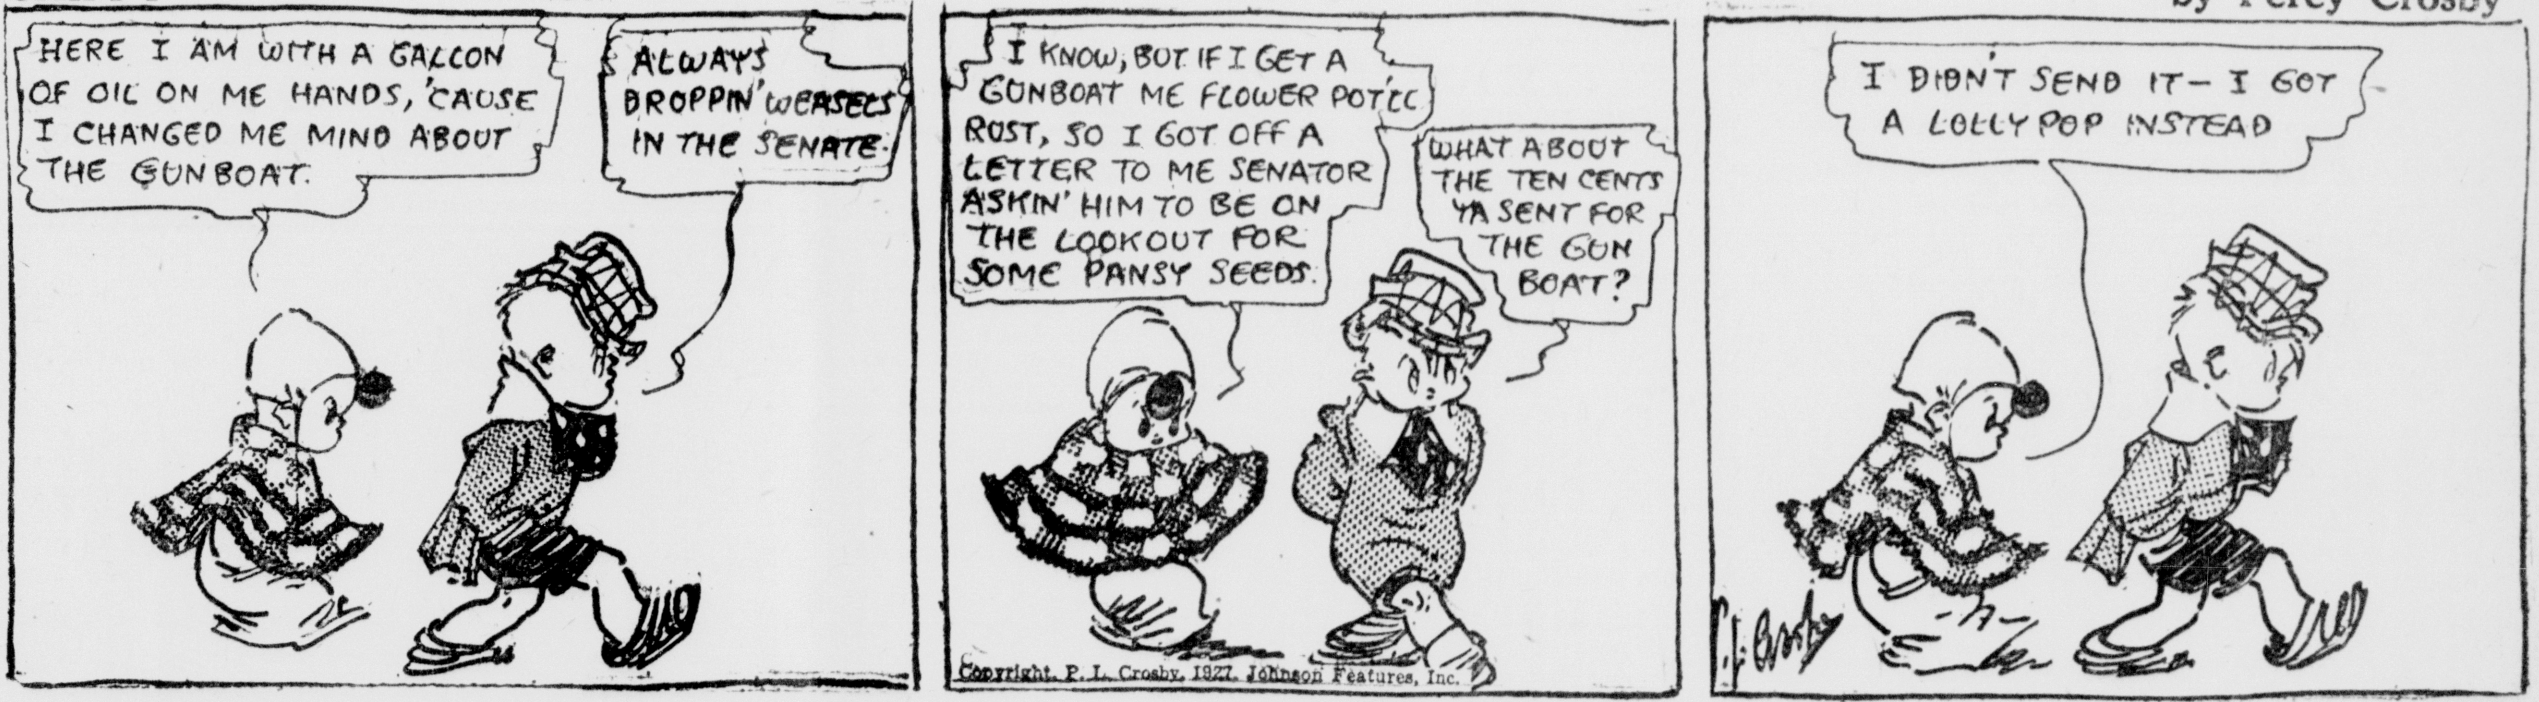

ETTA KETT

"CAP" STUBBS—A Boy Has A Hard Life

SKIPPIE

CAESAR BONAPARTE SMYTHE

by Milt Youngren

STATE SHARE OF FAG TAX DECREASES

Cigarette smoking was not included in 1926 with as great frequency as in the preceding year in Greene County. If statistics on the cigarette traffic tax in the annual state auditor's report, showing the state's proportion of revenue, is to be taken as a criterion, the figures cover the period from 1921 to 1926, inclusive. State received $2,089.79 from Greene County in cigarette tax money in 1926 and $2,263.73 the previous year, when the peak was reached. The state's income from this source in this county in 1921 is placed at $1,751.05, in 1922, $2,054.79, in 1923, $1,875.23, and in 1924, $1,755.55.

INHERITANCE TAX LESS THAN NORMAL

Inheritance tax money paid into the state treasury by Greene County at the February and August settlements in 1926 represents the lowest sum reverting to the state from this county in the last six years, according to statistics compiled in the yearly report of State Auditor J. T. Tracy. Greene County's inheritance tax payment to the state in 1926 amounted to $6,680.20. The greatest sum during the six-year period was $20,593.91 paid in 1921. In 1922 the amount was $10,591.06, in 1923, $9,037.95, in 1924, $13,164.41, and in 1925, $10,556.01. In marked contrast, the state received $1,984,097.64 in inheritance tax money from eighty-eight counties in 1926, the largest revenue from this source in the past six years.

CLIFTON

Communion services closed a week of meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Sabbath. Splendid sermons each evening by Rev. Carl White, of Yellow Springs; Rev. W. P. Harriman, Cedarville; Rev. J. Patton, Yellow Springs; M. E. Rev. J. G. C. Webster, Clifton U. P.; Rev. Wm. Thiford, Xenia and Rev. Wm. Wilson, pastor, made the week a rare treat to good crowds which heard them. There were six accessions to the church. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corry motored to Mechanicsburg last week to attend a meeting of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Corry was soprano in a quartette which furnished music. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Estle were called to Jeffersonville last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Estle's uncle, Mr. Harvey Gattough. Mrs. Michael Ault and Mrs.

Ralph Ault were hostesses to the Second Auxiliary at the home of the former last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. S. Lewis, Mrs. James Swaby, Mrs. Alfred Swaby and Miss Florence White were guests of Yellow Springs Missionary Society at last Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. N. Coe.

Mr. Harold Mills is home from the O. S. U. for a ten-day vacation. Rev. Wm. Wilson left Sunday night for Loveland, Ohio, where he will hold evangelistic meetings.

Dean Robinson, of Cedarville College, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit next Sabbath.

Miss Freda Estle entertained Clifton Girl Reserves at her home last Saturday.

Mrs. H. C. Aultman and sons, Dan and Philip, were guests of Miss Florence White Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Albert Ferguson, elder in Clifton U. P. Church is very sick at his home on the Xenia Pike.

The H. J. Kyle family had a reunion over the week-end, entertaining Donald and Gordon from the O. S. U.; James and family and Harriet from Springfield and Mrs. Gavlin Reilly and family from Camden, O.

A St. Patrick's Day Social was held at the home of Mr. Will Rife last Friday evening. Games, decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the day.

Misses Mary Webster, Ruth Collins and Lois Estle spent Friday in Dayton as observers at Steele High School.

STAR HAS NEVER FACED AUDIENCE

ANN MACK

By MARY BLADE
Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927
NEW YORK, March 23.—Three concerts and yet she has never faced an audience—that is the record of Ann Mack, the young Kansas City soprano. A few years ago that would have been an impossibility, but in these days of radio it is not only possible but has actually happened.

Miss Mack made her formal debut last summer on a national radio hookup from WEAF, New York, and in December, gave another recital on the air from WDAF, Kansas City. More recently she was heard with Josef Hofmann from WEAF.

"Frankly, I don't know how it feels to get before an audience," Miss Mack confessed. "It's a different thing to sing into a 'micro' and frankly I think more difficult. There's the horrible uncertainty whether anyone is listening. I am anxious to get before a real audience and get the reaction. Of course I sang before audiences long ago, before I really could sing, and looking back now I sometimes wonder how I had the nerve, for that's the only word which describes it."

Like most people who seek a career, Miss Mack "came upon" hers, or at least it walked right up to her and demanded that she follow it. She says she realizes now that she always wanted to sing, and just by accident one day while playing the piano, she struck a G in "Welcome Pretty Primrose."

"I got awfully excited," she confesses, "although I don't suppose there was really anything to get excited over, and the next day asked a well-known singer friend of mine if she would give me lessons. She did, and I was progressing when circumstances took me to Buenos Aires. I continued to study intermittently there, and even gave a concert. About three years ago I was crossing on the Olympic, and one day was singing softly to myself in the music room when I was overheard and asked to sing at the ship's concert. I did, without realizing what it would mean. John T. Adams, internationally noted impresario, heard me, and confirmed what had been told me previously—I had a voice and ought to study seriously for a career."

For the last three years she has studied, and admits quite frankly that there have been many days when she was all ready to pack up and return to Kansas City. There are many disappointments, heartbreaks and three years is a long time to devote entirely to study, not only to voice, but Italian, French and repertoire.

"I really think if I hadn't begun to sing publicly, if one can call the radio that, last summer, I would have stopped," Miss Mack confesses. "It has been a long, hard pull and although I am egotistical enough to have faith in my voice, for who wouldn't with everyone being so kind and sympathetic, nevertheless, there have been many dark hours, and many minutes of misgiving. I know there is still much hard work ahead of me, for no one who desires success can ever afford to stop studying. I am willing to work as long as I live, if I can just mean something. If I can just succeed and get somewhere."

If Miss Mack's success in the few times she has sung is any criticism, there is little question, she should go far. Then there will be two famous prima donnas from Kansas City, home of Marion Talley. What community could ask more?

MT. TABOR

Funeral services for Jean Tracy were held at the Paintersville P. Church, Monday morning, with Rev. Clark officiating. Interment was made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Shaw spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Glass and family, of near Cedarville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson and son, Edgar, of near Xenia, and Edith and Louise Johnson, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. DeForrest Strong.

Mary Smith, of Dayton, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wolary and son, Thomas, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stauffer, of near Alpha.

The Ladies Aid Society, together

er with the White Chapel Society, will hold an all-day meeting at the parsonage, Thursday, March 31. Each member is requested to bring a covered dish, and sandwiches; also silver and china for their own use. Mrs. Jackson, of Dayton, will give a talk on missions. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Neff and family, of Eleazer.

Doctor Orders Vinol For Nervous Woman

"I was weak, nervous and anemic. Could hardly walk. My doctor ordered Vinol, and I feel 100 per cent better."—Mrs. H. Willis. For over twenty-five years, this simple, strengthening iron and cod liver compound has been prescribed for weak, nervous women and men and frail children. The very FIRST week you take Vinol you begin to feel stronger, eat and sleep better. Contains no opium—you'll like its taste.—H. L. Sayre, druggist.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

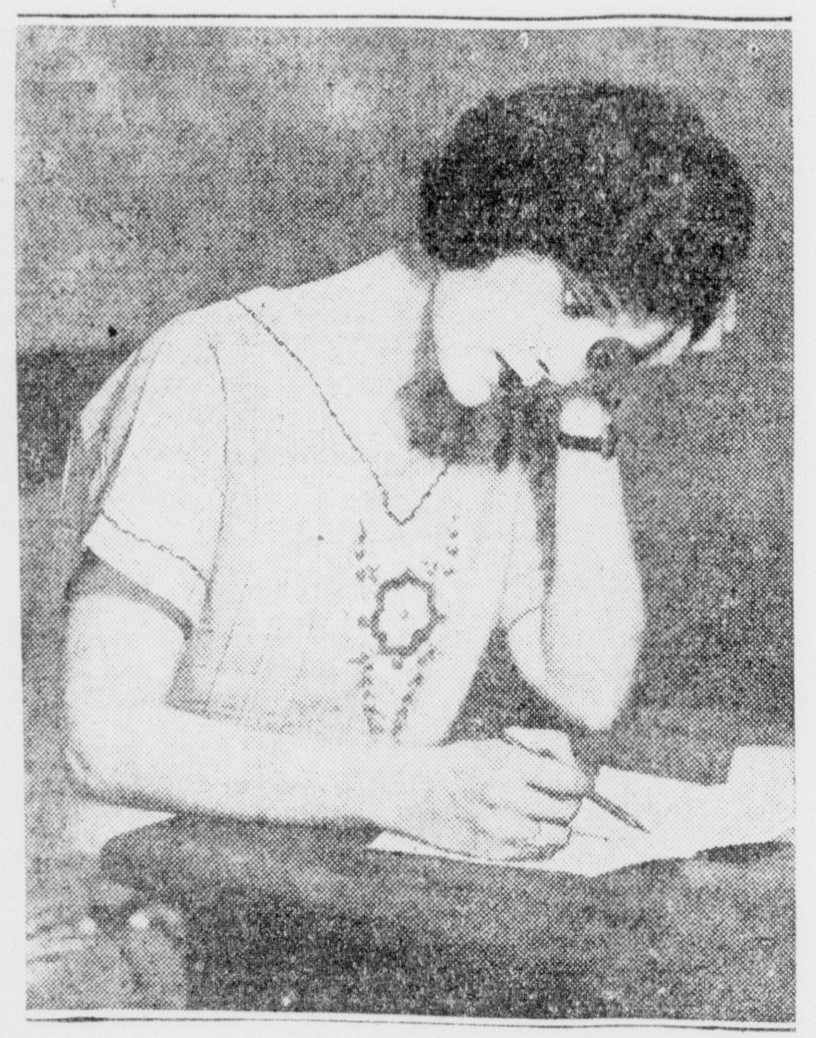

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat. If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire. DR. R. NEWMAN, 286 Fifth Ave., New York — Desk D

HER MAN FOREVER MATED BEATRICE BURTON author of "Love Bound"

CHAPTER XIV
RANNY looked from Fay to his wife. Her face was flushed and he could see that she was on the verge of tears, even though her mouth smiled. Fay saw it, too, and gave Ranny a little push toward his wife. "Go on and dance with her," she laughed. "I've got to go and look after my punch anyway." And she walked into the dining room, where the fruit punch that she had made was sparkling in its big glass bowl like a lemon-colored lake. Fay had a way all her own of attracting men to her side as an attractive attracts moths. And it was two minutes before Sally's "Woody" was out in the dining room, begging her for a cup of punch. The music whirled to its end and Ranny dropped Sylvia and followed Woody with some kind of mumbled excuse to Sylvia. She turned and met Sally March's big angry eyes as they stood alone in the living room. "The Deserted Women—a Melodrama in One Act!" said Sally with a hard little laugh. "I wish you'd tell me what all the men find in Fay Shirley that makes her so doggone attractive to them." Her brows twisted in a frown. "Pap! She has it, and it's the most alluring thing a woman can have," Sylvia answered. "Beauty and brains you, while I wash my hands? They're all gooey with orange juice." She opened the door that led into the dining room and stopped dead still on the threshold. The music in the living room had stopped abruptly and the dancers all faced the doorway of the little hall—that is, all except Eddie Carter, who had "passed out" and lay stretched on the gay cushions of the davenport. He snored loudly and the hands that were clasped on his stomach rose and fell with every breath. Sylvia walked forward, into the room to see who or what had cast this pall upon the party. There, in the doorway, stood Aunt Agony! Behind her, like a plump shadow, stood Peter Wilk's sister, Sarah. Sarah was an old maid, but not the kind of old maid that Aunt Agony was. She was fat and comfortable-looking, and she was cheerful at all times. She smiled at Sylvia now, from behind Aunt Agony's thin shoulder. "We thought we'd just stop in and call on our way from the picture show—Aggie and I," she said to Sylvia, and her voice was apologetic. Sylvia managed to smile, and she went forward to kiss Aunt Agony's snail cheek, but her aunt drew her head up with the movement of an angry old war-horse. "Well, this is quite an Arabian nights' entertainment, isn't it?" she

"I SUPPOSE I COULD CUT DOWN ON THE BUTCHER'S BILLS," SHE MUSED

lon't count for a thing beside it." He had a lot of pep myself, he remarked Sally, as if to herself. Her dark eyes were on Fay, who was pouring out her punch for the two men. "There, you two old club-drinkers!" she was saying, as she looked from one of them to the other with her brilliant eyes, "take that, and then let's frolic again!" She came dancing into the room where Sally and Sylvia stood, and turned on the music again. "Want me to show you how Ann Pennington does the Charleston?" she asked, and without waiting for an answer, she began to do it. Before she had finished, Eddie Carter, chewing peanuts as usual, came in, followed by Peter Wilk, who had brought Lolly Phelps with him. A few seconds later the rest of the old "crowd" arrived in a body. The girls exclaimed over the "cuteness" of The Next and the next slipped Ranny on the back and told him that he was the luckiest fellow in the world. And Ranny laughed, but said nothing. The party warmed up and the cigarette smoke grew more blue and thick. The dancing became more riotous as the punch sank lower and lower in its bowl on the dining room table. Glasses stood about everywhere—most of them half emptied. Ranny and Fay went about with a pitcher filling them up. At ten o'clock, when the fun and the excitement were at their height, the front door bell rang loudly and shrilly through the little flat. The merry-makers scarcely heard it, but Sylvia, who was squeezing oranges in the kitchen, jumped at the sound of it. "Now who in the world can that be?" she asked Lolly Phelps, who was helping her. "You go to the door, will you, while I wash my hands? They're all gooey with orange juice." She opened the door that led into the dining room and stopped dead still on the threshold. The music in the living room had stopped abruptly and the dancers all faced the doorway of the little hall—that is, all except Eddie Carter, who had "passed out" and lay stretched on the gay cushions of the davenport. He snored loudly and the hands that were clasped on his stomach rose and fell with every breath. Sylvia walked forward, into the room to see who or what had cast this pall upon the party. There, in the doorway, stood Aunt Agony! Behind her, like a plump shadow, stood Peter Wilk's sister, Sarah. Sarah was an old maid, but not the kind of old maid that Aunt Agony was. She was fat and comfortable-looking, and she was cheerful at all times. She smiled at Sylvia now, from behind Aunt Agony's thin shoulder. "We thought we'd just stop in and call on our way from the picture show—Aggie and I," she said to Sylvia, and her voice was apologetic. Sylvia managed to smile, and she went forward to kiss Aunt Agony's snail cheek, but her aunt drew her head up with the movement of an angry old war-horse. "Well, this is quite an Arabian nights' entertainment, isn't it?" she

On the first of July the monthly bills came in. How in the world had she and Ranny spent so much money in three short weeks?—thirty-five dollars they owed the butcher! The grocer's bill was forty. And there were all sorts of little bills for gas and electric light, and ice and flowers, and things from the drug store—a hundred and fifteen dollars, all together! "I suppose I could cut down on the butcher's bill," she mused, tapping her teeth with her pen-knife. "Ranny eats too much meat, anyway. He shouldn't have steak or chops for breakfast the way he does—not in this hot weather." She finally decided to go to Aunt Agony for help and advice. For Aunt Agony was a famous manager. She could make a dollar go almost as far as a dollar would go, back in 1913 before the great war! And there was still fifty dollars left of Aunt Agony's wedding present. "I'll pay up the butcher with that," Sylvia decided. As she was dressing to go to Aunt Agony's house, the telephone rang. It was Ranny calling her. "Gosh, I'd rather chew tacks than ask you what I'm going to ask you, Sylvia," he began, and stopped. Some instinct told Sylvia that he was going to ask her to lend him that fifty dollars, and she was right. "Like a fool I played poker with Eddie Carter and his bunch this noon," he explained, and he sounded sheepish, "and I've run short this month. Could you let me borrow that money of yours?" (TO BE CONTINUED)

Dr. James HEADACHE Powders

Get a 10-cent package of Dr. James' Headache Powders. It is the quickest and surest relief known for headaches—dull, throbbing, splitting, violent, or nerve-racking headaches. This old-time headache relief acts almost magically. Send someone to the drug store now and a few moments after you take a powder you will wonder what became of the headache, neuralgia and pain. Stop suffering—it's so needless. —Adv.

SORE THROAT? DON'T GARGLE HERE'S QUICKER AND BETTER RELIEF

Why suffer pain, soreness or discomfort while waiting for relief? Here's a physician's prescription called Thoxine that is guaranteed to give relief in fifteen minutes. One swallow taken internally goes direct to the cause, and kills the germ. No chloroform, iron or other harmful drugs. Safe and pleasant for children. Always ask for "Thoxine," 35c., 60c., and $1.00. Sold under money-back guarantee of quick relief. At all druggists. —Adv.

Life Is Hard For A Nervous Woman

Conneaut, Ohio.—"When a woman is in a rundown, nervous state of health she can take nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I had a breakdown, could not sleep, my back ached and I was weak. I was near nervous prostration when I heard Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription spoken of so well by other women and decided to try it. It restored my nerves and I regained my health and strength. 'Favorite Prescription' is the finest tonic and nerveine I have ever taken."—Mrs. F. E. Scott, 734 Maple Ave. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is put up in both tablet and fluid form. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of tablets. Write for free confidential medical advice. —Adv.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Baelmann's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure. That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, the belching, the anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort. That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease. Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and go to sleep because Baelmann's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine, in the yellow package, at any good drug store. Price $1. Always on Hand at SAYRE'S DRUG STORE

No strings to this offer Drive the car—

THE COMMANDER Studebaker's Big Six Brougham Now $1585 f.o.b. factory

We will lend you The Commander to prove for yourself that it will

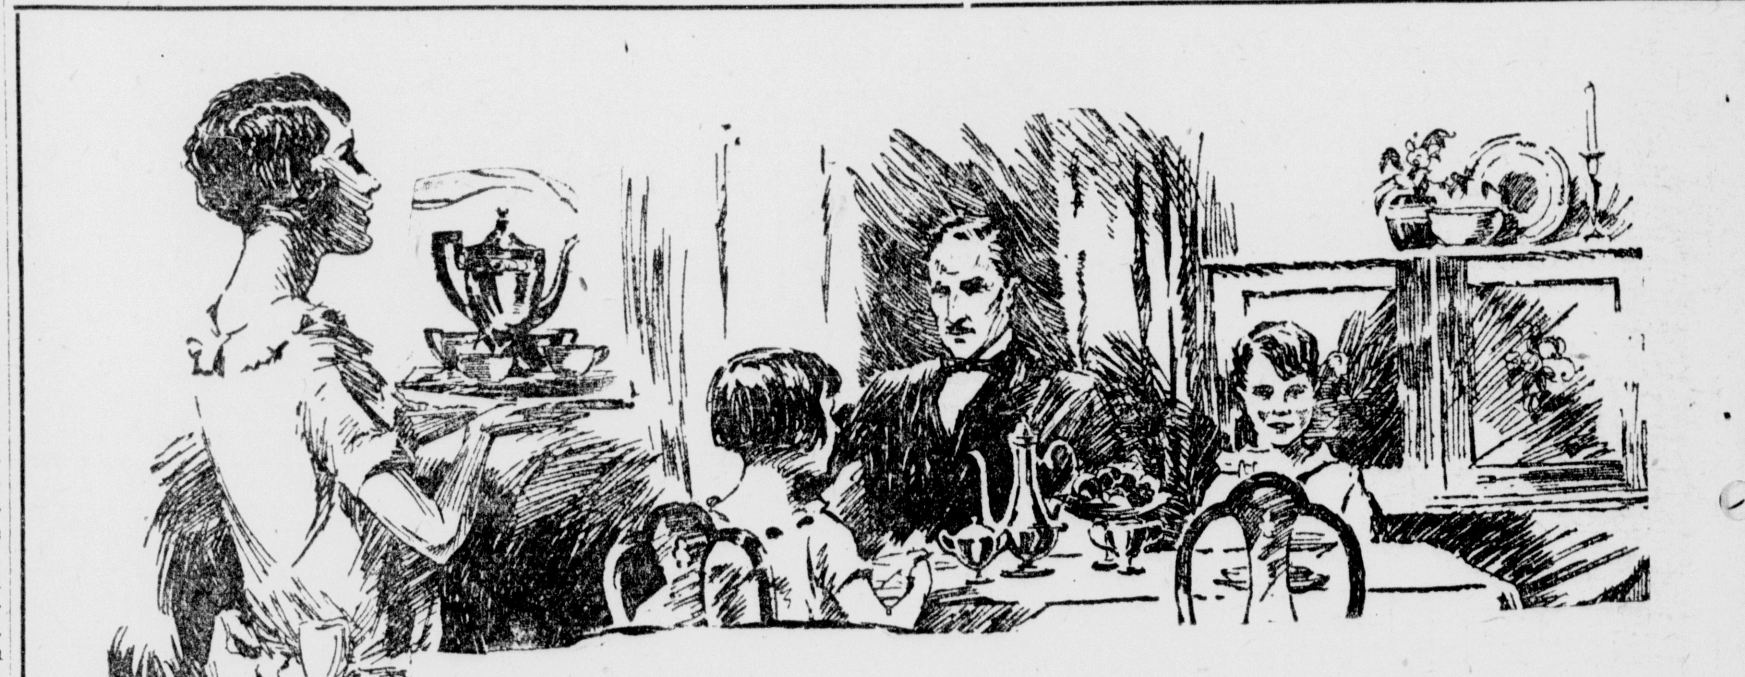

Out-speed } any other car, six or eight,
Out-climb } selling up to $2500
Out-perform }

No strings to this offer. You take a Commander. You drive it. You judge Studebaker by what it does in your hands.

Put it to any test you like over any route you choose. No obligation except to tell your friends the way The Commander —will idle in high at 3 miles an hour!

—will pick-up from 5 to 40 miles in 18.4 seconds!
—will give you all the speed you want, and then some!

GREENE COUNTY HARDWARE CO. East Main Street SALES AND SERVICE STUDEBAKER Seventy-five years young

"E" BRAND COFFEE HEALTHFUL FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

The mild, healthful stimulous of "E" BRAND COFFEE makes it a healthful, wholesome drink, not only for the adults of the family but for the children as well. When it is best quality, carefully made, without prolonged boiling, it not only warms and stimulates the system but induces a healthy, normal appetite. You may pay more money for coffee but you cannot buy a finer grade than "E" BRAND. Any coffee expert will tell you that in every test by which coffee is judged "E" BRAND will rank in the same class with the most expensive on the market.

YOU CAN BUY IT FOR LESS BECAUSE— it is inexpensively packed in paper cartons instead of tin cans and is sold at a close margin of profit. Try it—compare it with the best you have ever used—and judge for yourself. FOR A COFFEE OF LUXURIOUS QUALITY AT A COMMON PLACE PRICE ORDER "E" BRAND

The Eavey Company WHOLESALE GROCERS More Than 58 Years of Business Integrity Back of All SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED "E" Brand Products